'Operation Find' Brings Quick Arrests In Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two holdup men walked out of a downtown Philadelphia bank Jan. 2 with $10,599.

Eleven minutes later, police arrested two men and recovered $10,599.

The swift arrests were the result of Operation Find, a program started Sept. 18 whose full designation is Fugitive Interception Net Deployment. Police cars are sent to key locations such as bridges and expressway interchanges to watch escape routes.

Three minutes after the Jan. 2 holdup, an alarm flashed in the radio room at the center city police administration building. Two minutes later, the first police officer at the holdup scene radioed headquarters: "Two males . . . escape made in a 1962 white Cadillac . . . License number Pennsylvania 14716."

Patrol cars from five divisions sped to preassigned locations, supplementing regular patrols, and a search began within the net.

A moment later in north central Philadelphia, two patrolmen spotted a 1962 white Cadillac with license number 14716. The car was stopped and officers found a canvas bag stuffed with cash in the bag seat. The car's occupants were taken into custody.

If no one had been stopped 10 minutes after Operation Find was activated, the net would have been expanded.

The city is divided into 50 geographical sections with an operation plan for each under the program which is an idea of Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo.

To activate Find, Rizzo said, "a crime of major importance must be committed; a vehicle must be used in the escape, and a fairly good description of the vehicle and occupants must be given to the police radio room."

"Radio personnel understand the seriousness in using 35 to 45 police cars on one plan," said Michael R. Mangione who directs Find. "We use a checker-board method in assigning police cars to pertinent posts in order to maintain effective police patrols during the period Operation Find is in effect."

Police records show find has led to 27 apprehensions of people involved in 17 major crimes, including six bank robberies.

More Cops And Courts To Fight City's Thuggery

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's top advisers have drafted a package of proposals, including the hiring of perhaps another 1,000 policemen, for a crackdown on criminals in the capital, where many residents fear to walk the streets after dark.

The package also will recommend the appointment of more judges and other court personnel, said aides to the President.

And, it may include a potentially controversial plan to allow judges to hold in "preventive detention" persons who they think might commit crimes if released on bail.

Nixon ordered Atty. Gen. John Mitchell this week to map an urgent program against crime in the capital. He acted against a backdrop of statistics such as these:

More Robberies — Major crimes in Washington during the past year rose nearly 28 per cent—209 homicides, 271 rape cases and more than 4,600 robberies, all record highs.

—The most startling increase has been in robberies. Last month alone police recorded 629 robberies, more than double the number in December 1967 and more than five times the number in December 1965.

—Banks have been hit especially hard. There were 102 robberies of city financial institutions in 1968, compared with 29 in 1967. Already this year there have been 16 bank holdups.

—The situation today seems to us to be almost out of control," city bankers said Thursday in a full-page newspaper advertisement headed "an open letter to President Nixon."

Cruise Streets — "Washington, in the eyes of every American, as well as citizens of other nations, represents America in microcosm," the bankers said. "The Federal City must . . . be a model of stability, rather than an example of criminal anarchy."

Special details of FBI agents have been cruising Washington's streets in an effort to curb the bank robberies. Two FBI men assigned to the patrols were shot and killed this month when they tried to arrest a robbery suspect.

Many city merchants are arming themselves, and shoot-outs between bandits and store owners have become commonplace. "I'll bet 90 per cent of the stores around here have guns in them," said one Washington businessman. Said another: "If a few of these crooks get plugged, you'll discourage them." In one month, two bandits were killed and six others were wounded by their intended victims.

Shot Principal — Besides banks and stores, hundreds of individual residents have become crime victims.

A White House secretary was robbed one night last week as she walked on the sidewalk just outside the White House grounds.

An 81-year-old "mother of the year" was pushed down a flight of stairs after youths snatched her purse.

The vice principal of Cardozo High School, Herman L. Clifford, was shot to death by one of three youths who had robbed the school bag of $350.

The robbery near the White House brought the crime problem "very close to home," Nixon said in disclosing he had ordered aides to draft the crash program.

Crime, he added, "is a major problem in the District of Columbia, as I found out when I suggested to the Secret Service I'd like to take a walk . . ."

Two Servicemen Killed In Vietnam

Killed in action were Army Spec. 5 Kenneth D. Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Sanders of Big Rapids; and Army Spec. 4 Nathan C. Crouch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat O. Crouch of Westland.

Russia Moves In Near East Crisis

By The Associated Press

The Soviet leadership has sent an important message to President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the Middle East crisis, the semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today.

It said the message from Soviet Communist party General Secretary Leonid Brezhnev concerned a meeting the Kremlin leaders held earlier this week on the Middle East. The contents of the message were not revealed.

Alexander Shelepin, a member of the Soviet party politburo currently in Cairo with a trade mission, delivered the message to Nasser and discussed its contents with him, the paper said. The editor of Al-Ahram, anticipating the meeting of the U.S. National Security Council on the Middle East in Washington Saturday, urged President Nixon not to pursue the policies of former President Johnson in the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Washington Attitude
Editor Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, a confidant of Nasser, said in his weekly editorial a new attitude in Washington could have a far-reaching effect, not only in defusing the disposing of the Middle East problem.

In Beirut, Premier Rashid Karami's new government won an overwhelming 60-30 vote of confidence after a 13-hour session of the Lebanese Parliament. The vote ended a month-long political crisis that followed Israel's commando raid on Beirut International Airport.

In Tel Aviv, six members of an Al Fatah sabotage squad began serving prison sentences of 25 to 40 years. An Israeli military court convicted them of infiltrating from Jordan, firing on an army force and attempting to sabotage installations.

Bail's Release
Baghdad radio said today American engineer Paul Bail was arrested in Iraq for "actions related to spying" and may be released within the next few days.

The broadcast did not specify whom Bail was accused of acting for, but it added that "the government, acting from a position of strength, will be tolerant toward him."

The announcement confirmed reports in Washington that Bail had been picked up in connection with Iraq's growing spy hunt.

More Saboteurs
An Israeli newspaper said the number of Al Fatah saboteurs on the Lebanese-Israeli frontier has risen to between 300 and 500 in recent weeks. Beirut has repeatedly denied guerrillas were operating against Israel from Lebanon.

The paper Haaretz said the saboteurs are commanded by Syrians and are based in southern Lebanon, in the foothills of Mt. Hermon.

At the United Nations, the outgoing president of the Security Council, Max Guebara of Finland, said the Big Four powers would begin consultations on the Middle East "very soon, in one form or another," in February.

Defend Hanging
Jakobson said he did not know if the talks would start out among all four or just between the Soviet and U.S. delegates to the Security Council. Such talks were proposed by France, but ever-increasing percentage of crime, greater than their increasing percentage of the population.

"The thrust of much of the group protest and collective violence—on the campus, in the ghettos, in the streets—is provided by our young people. It may be here, with tomorrow's generation, that much of the emphasis of our studies and the national response should be."

The progress report, which raised a number of questions, but answered few, was sent to former President Johnson Jan. 9, but not published until Thursday. Final conclusions and recommendations are expected this spring.

Assessing the magnitude of violence in America, the commission, headed by Milton Eisenhower, offered these statistics covering the past five years:

—Some 200 private acts of violence toward Negroes and civil rights workers have caused more than 20 deaths and 100 injuries.

—Violent urban outbreaks on 239 occasions have killed at least 191 persons, injured nearly 8,000, and left damage in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

—Hundreds of student outbreaks, some resulting in the temporary shutdown of colleges and universities, police intervention, rioting, and property damage.

"The elimination of all violence in a free society is impossible," the commission said. "But the better control of illegitimate violence is an urgent imperative and one within our means to accomplish."

Peace Talks In Deadlock; Hint Of Progress

PARIS (AP) — The Vietnam peace talks, deadlocked again after only two sessions are settling into a familiar pattern of weekly propaganda battles. But spokesmen for both sides hint that they expect progress eventually in private contacts.

Such contacts still seem a long way off.

On the first anniversary of the Viet Cong's Big Tet offensive, the four delegations met Thursday for more than seven hours. It was the longest session since preliminary peace talks opened last May.

The consensus of all four delegations was that no progress was made. The two sides traded abuse and accusations, rejecting or ignoring the other's approach to the basic issue of how to approach peace. Their only decision was to meet again next Thursday, the day apparently chosen for weekly sessions.

The second meeting was "fruitless but not useless," one U.S. official said. "Every confrontation like this helps to clarify our respective positions for the long, arduous and largely secret bargaining still ahead."

The meeting crystallized the sharp differences which appeared at the first session on Jan. 25.

Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States, supported by South Vietnam's Pham Dang Lam, again proposed that the conference discuss reviving the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam as a "first step toward re-establishing peace."

During the campaign, Nixon repeatedly pledged an all-out effort to combat crime, particularly in Washington which he said should be a national model.

Anti-Crime Program
Nixon ordered Atty. Gen. John Mitchell earlier this week to map an urgent program against crime in the capital where homicides and rapes reached record totals last year, robberies in December were double the same month a year before and bank holdups have more than tripled.

On the draft question, the White House said Laird "was advised of the President's conviction that an all-volunteer armed force be established after the expenditures for Vietnam are substantially reduced."

During the campaign, Nixon estimated creation of a volunteer army would cost $5 billion to $7 billion in pay raises. But he said part of that extra spending would be offset by reduced training costs.

Cut Mail Costs
Along with the request for an end-the-draft commission, the White House said, Nixon has called for studies or recommendations involving electoral reform, a possible hike in maximum interest paid by banks on savings deposits, all aspects of the program to develop a supersonic airline, improvement of the postal service, the wisdom of thoroughly revising the Johnson administration's proposed budget for the coming fiscal year and a variety of others.

Ocean Well Is Pouring Out Oil

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Beaches, wildlife and fish were threatened today as oil bubbled forth from a leaking ocean-floor well at a rate of 21,000 gallons a day.

The black slick covered 200 square miles of Pacific Ocean, as pilots prepared chemical air drops to disperse the oil and underwater crews worked to seal the leak.

A team of experts was dispatched from Washington, D.C., by Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, and Gov. Ronald Reagan told of the threat of "major pollution to our coast."

"It is imperative that everything be done that can be done," said Hickel. He is considering tighter regulations on offshore drilling, he said, as a result.

The undersea well being drilled five and a half miles offshore by Union Oil Co. of California blew out Tuesday.

With the migration of gray whales at its height, State Fish and Game officials expressed fear for safety of the mammals which must come to the surface to breathe. Their route was through the oil slick.

Many birds were struggling on the beaches, their feathers sticky with oil. State marine biologists said chemicals used to disperse the slick may harm bottom-dwelling fish and plankton.

Inquiry Probes Bucher Control In Ship Seizure

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The question of how much authority Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher really had over intelligence operations on his ship seems to be getting a thorough airing before the court of inquiry into the capture of the USS Pueblo.

The question came into focus as Lt. Stephen R. Harris, in charge of the Pueblo's intelligence gathering mission, spent two hours in closed-door testimony Thursday and was ordered to return Monday.

The court went into a three-day recess for the weekend at a Navy doctor's recommendation to give Bucher a chance to rest. He testified nearly all of last week and has attended every session, open or closed. In addition, the court of five admirals said it wanted to catch up with administrative chores.

Harris Key Witness
Harris was regarded as a key witness because Bucher testified early in his story of the capture that he had told the 30-year-old lieutenant to destroy material which fell into the hands of the North Koreans.

Part of how Bucher operated the Pueblo was determined by a division of authority between himself and Harris. While Bucher had complete military command and ultimate responsibility of the ship, he has told the court that the commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet "designated that the operational and management control of the research spaces working areas for intelligence be under the command and jurisdiction of Lt. Harris."

Responsible
"He did not directly report to me," Bucher said his limited authority meant:

—He was never able to observe how Harris conducted drill in destroying secret material in case of capture.

Yet Bucher said he was ultimately responsible for the security of all the classified material on board the Pueblo "because that material was on board my ship."

So when North Koreans opened fire on the Pueblo, Bucher said, "my primary concern was . . . to actually destroy the classified materials." When he began to feel "that I was not getting a sufficient number of reports to keep me apprised of the situation," he decided to inspect the destruction of classified documents in Harris' intelligence compartments himself.

"I was to say the least quite surprised to see the volume of material that was on the deck in this compartment . . . I spoke to Lt. Harris and I said words to the effect, 'Let's get rid of this material right now.' And he replied that he was getting—that the material was being destroyed and being thrown over the side, and further indicated that crypto materials had been destroyed."

Later, after North Koreans boarded the Pueblo, Bucher said he was ordered to tour the ship with his captors and when they arrived in Harris' compartment "I was rather surprised to still see a couple of mattress covers which were apparently full of classified materials."

"It did surprise me, because as I had testified before, I had seen this material there some 20 to 30 minutes before this and perhaps as much as 40, and I had no prior indication that the material had not been jettisoned or destroyed."

—Violent urban outbursts on 239 occasions have killed at least 191 persons, injured nearly 8,000, and left damage in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

—Hundreds of student outbursts, some resulting in the temporary shutdown of colleges and universities, police intervention, rioting, and property damage.

"The elimination of all violence in a free society is impossible," the commission said. "But the better control of illegitimate violence is an urgent imperative and one within our means to accomplish."

Nixon Asks 'End Draft' Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has asked Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird to set up a special commission "to develop a detailed plan of action for ending the draft."

The request announced by the White House Thursday represented one of several small steps taken at the same time to redeem campaign pledges.

These steps gained added impetus today with Nixon's planned statement to Congress, calling for more policemen, judges and prosecutors to curb crime in the nation's capital.

That late afternoon message was on a schedule including a trip to the Pentagon for a briefing with the Joint Chiefs of Staff and a pep talk to lower echelon defense officials.

During the campaign, Nixon repeatedly pledged an all-out effort to combat crime, particularly in Washington which he said should be a national model.

Anti-Crime Program

Nixon ordered Atty. Gen. John Mitchell earlier this week to map an urgent program against crime in the capital where homicides and rapes reached record totals last year, robberies in December were double the same month a year before and bank holdups have more than tripled.

On the draft question, the White House said Laird "was advised of the President's conviction that an all-volunteer armed force be established after the expenditures for Vietnam are substantially reduced."

During the campaign, Nixon estimated creation of a volunteer army would cost $5 billion to $7 billion in pay raises. But he said part of that extra spending would be offset by reduced training costs.

Cut Mail Costs

Along with the request for an end-to-draft commission, the White House said, Nixon has called for studies or recommendations involving electoral reform, a possible hike in maximum interest paid by banks on savings deposits, all aspects of the program to develop a supersonic airliner, improvement of the postal service, the wisdom of thoroughly revising the Johnson administration's proposed budget for the coming fiscal year and a variety of others.

Postmaster General Winton

M. Blount told White House reporters Thursday that he and his aides were trying to find ways to cut Post Office Department costs with the hope of avoiding a one-cent increase in the present six-cent first class mail rate. The increase was recommended earlier this month by Johnson.

Blount also announced five Nixon nominations for top Post

Office positions, including that Elmer T. Klassen, former president of the American Can Co., to be deputy postmaster general.

Fishermen Under New Restrictions

LANSING — Permits are now being issued to commercial fishermen by the Department of Natural Resources which ban the use of large-mesh gill nets throughout open waters of Lake Michigan during March, April, May, November, and December.

The new restriction, covering gill nets of 4 1/2-inch or larger mesh, is an extension of one established last year. It is pointedly aimed at protecting lake trout planted in 1966 and 1967 from heavy incidental catches of commercial fishermen.

Previous studies of the DNR reveal these fish are particularly vulnerable to excessive harvests by gill netters during those five months when large mesh nets will be barred in 1968.

The Department's latest action is a lesson in hard learning, reflecting its studies which show that lake trout stocked in northern Lake Michigan in 1965 have been decimated by incidental commercial catches and an upswing in sea lamprey predation.

Stresses Wayne H. Tody, chief of the DNR's Fish Division: "We can't turn our back on this problem and let the same thing happen to lake trout planted in the last two years. Those fish stocked in 1967 and 1968 are now approaching the size when they can be taken in wholesale numbers by large-mesh gill nets."

Tody goes on to say that overall efforts to restore Lake Michigan's lake trout fishery hinge heavily on protecting those last two year-classes of fish.

Earlier, the DNR reported there would be no major changes in Great Lakes commercial fishing regulations as long as fish populations in these waters were not endangered. "Latest studies," says Tody "have reaffirmed our fears that large-mesh gill nets pose a definite, serious threat to lake trout in Lake Michigan, especially during spring and late fall. We're simply meeting that threat before the damage is done."

Floors Vacant, Yet Pay Rent

LANSING (AP) — While the state spends money to lease and rent government offices, five floors of a state-owned office building have been vacant for six months, a legislator charged Thursday.

Rep. Alfred Sheridan, D-Taylor, succeeded in creating a special House committee to study the management of state office buildings in Lansing.

Sheridan introduced a resolution saying: "It appears that possibly large sums could be saved the state's hard-pressed taxpayers should an inquiry into this matter establish that existing state-owned properties could be used to better effect."

National Plane Spirited To Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A National Airlines DC8 with 63 persons aboard was hijacked off the coast of Louisiana today by a "man with a gun at the head of the stewardess" and flown to Cuba.

The plane, Flight 44 from San Francisco to Miami with a stop scheduled at Tampa, carried 55 passengers and a crew of eight, the airline said. The plane landed in Havana at 6:58 a.m. EST. Capt. C. Leeds, pilot of the 11th airliner hijacked to Cuba this month, told the control tower in Houston at 5:35 a.m.: "I am diverting to Havana. I have been hijacked."

At that time, the plane was about 67 miles southwest of Grand Isle, La.

Other members of the crew were listed by National as First Officer W. Pawley, Flight Engineer C. Roper, W. Stevens, an extra man in the crew, and P.K. Klinger. The DC8 normally carries a crew of seven.

New Capitol Plans Opposed

LANSING (AP)—A Lansing-area legislator pledged Thursday to vigorously oppose construction of the proposed new Capitol building, terming it ugly and a monstrosity.

Rep. Jim Brown, R-Mason, noted architects estimate the structure will cost about $50 million.

"Can you imagine what good could be done if that $50 million was used in better educational programs, adequate financing mental health, fighting crime or a tax reduction?" he asked.

Brown said the present Capitol should be restored and redecorated and legislators should find office space in nearby buildings.

Referring to the 220-foot tower in the center of the proposed new Capitol, Brown said: "Architects call it a 'beacon light of freedom.' I call it a needle which will serve as a constant reminder to the taxpayer that they are in fact getting the needle."

"I will vigorously oppose construction of such a monstrosity as was unveiled Wednesday," Brown vowed.

THIS IS WHAT Michigan's new State Capitol could look like if the most recent concept were adopted. The facility — three separate buildings atop a fourth — would cost an estimated $48.9 million. The tall pylon in the center, with a glass observation cube at the top, could symbolize the "light of freedom." It was suggested. (AP Wirephoto)

Ryan Bumps Varnum From Appropriations Committee

State Rep. Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistique) is incensed over what he calls "blatant rigging of the House Committee system" by Democratic House Speaker William Ryan of Detroit. Varnum was dumped from the key appropriations committee, on which he served during the last two years. The action came after a phone conversation with Ryan in which Varnum refused to give endorsement of parochial before the bill was introduced and all the facts were known.

"I told Speaker Ryan that I intended to keep an open mind on the $40 million plus parochial issue," Varnum said. "I had no intention of committing myself on such a complex issue before I even knew what provisions the final bill would contain. That's exactly what I told William Ryan, and that, I believe, is precisely why I am no longer a member of the Appropriations Committee. I'm

Farm Workers Get Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Michigan farm workers and retail trades employees will automatically get minimum pay raises from $1.15 to $1.30 an hour on Saturday, the U.S. Department of Labor said today.

That's the day the new minimum hourly wage laws become effective. The new law applies to employees in hospitals and nursing homes, public and private educational institutions, laundries and dry cleaning establishments, restaurants, hotels, motels, building and construction industries and large farms. In addition, the law states that employees must receive time and a half for all work in excess of 40 hours per week. Overtime provisions do not apply to farm hands, the department said.

Cost Of Living Rise In Detroit Is Near Record

DETROIT (AP) — If you shelled out $10 in Detroit in 1968 to buy the same goods and services that amount would obtain a decade ago you might be embarrassed. Perhaps you might feel a stronger emotion, because the Labor Department reports it now costs $12.25 to buy these same goods and services.

The nationwide consumer price index rose 4.7 per cent during 1968. The increase in Detroit, however, was 4.3 per cent, missing the record year of 1966 by only .1 per cent.

Medical costs in the nation lead the increases. A hospital or doctor bill that cost $100 in 1967-68 would cost $149.10 now.

Extend Phone Exchange Area

The Michigan Public Service Commission, has authorized Munising Telephone Co. to provide telephone service to a square mile area extending west and south of its Munising Exchange.

This area, previously not signed to any telephone company, will be known as Hiawatha Exchange. Some square miles of the south area of the present Munising Exchange will be transferred to the new exchange. The exchange will cover portions of Alger, Delta and Schoolcraft counties.

"According to our information, there have been numerous requests for telephone service from people in this area who now have no service," Willis Ward, Commission chairman said. "There is every reason to expect this area to continue to expand in population, and it is proper that modern telephone service be made available to the area."

According to the commission, 1-party service will be offered at $8 per month, business customers and $6 per month for residence customers plus mileage charges measured from the central office building. Multi-party rural service will be available at $5 monthly for business customers and $4 for residence customers. The service is expected to be established during the fourth quarter of 1970. So 180 telephone subscribers expected to be served from a new exchange during its first year of operation, 40 of which are customers formerly served in the Munising Exchange.

The Commission has authorized the Munising Telephone Co. to add some 40 square miles of previously unassigned territory to its Munising Exchange. This area, located in AuTrain and Mathias townships of Alger county, has 25 potential telephone subscribers. It is expected to be incorporated in the exchange during the fourth quarter of 1970.

Toll free service will be provided among the company's Hiawatha Forest, Munising at Shingleton Exchanges beginning at the time the Hiawatha Forest Exchange is activated.

Varnum was dumped from the key appropriations committee, on which he served during the last two years. That's exactly what I told William Ryan, and that, I believe, is precisely why I am no longer a member of the Appropriations Committee. I'm sure that my former experience as a public school teacher also counted strongly in his decision."

Varnum said it is clearly evident that the vital committees, including appropriations and education, are being stacked to provide quick clearance for parochialism in the House. He expressed the belief that Ryan had hand-picked the committee members to assure clear sailing for his pet project.

"This is the most shocking thing to me," Varnum added. "The committee appointments have been brutally misused for the benefit of one single issue. At the same time, Speaker Ryan has assured an effort toward irresponsible spending. This, of course, will adversely affect all citizens because there will be no choice but to raise taxes if these loose-spending aims succeed."

"The Appropriations Committee which Democrats increased from 13 to 15 members this year consists of 11 Democrats and only 4 Republicans," said Varnum. "The Democratic Party has a wider voting margin on this committee than they have in the entire House. Their total margin at this time is 57 to 42, only five votes, compared to their lopsided seven vote majority on the committee."

"It's clear to me that the committees are packed for purely political reasons, the skids are greased for special-interest legislation and irresponsible spending policies," Varnum concluded. "I think this makes a mockery of the legislative committee process and will prove detrimental to the people of Michigan."

Though he was denied the choice Appropriations Committee seat, Varnum was named to the Colleges and Universities, Mental Health, and Military and Veterans Affairs committees.

"All of these committees consider legislation which is extremely vital to the 107th District," Varnum said. "While my displeasure over the rigging of the Appropriations Committee is not lessened, I believe I can continue to work effectively for the people of our area through these new committee responsibilities."

Machinery Firm's Success Wins Credit

K&K Manufacturing, Rock Gets $59,000 SBA Loan

The Small Business Administration has notified Senator Robert Griffin (R-Michigan) that it has approved a $59,000 loan to the Rock Industrial Development Corp. which will assist the K&K Manufacturing Corp. in establishing a heavy equipment repair business.

The SBA loan will be supplemented by a $7,000 loan from the First National Bank & Trust Co. of Escanaba and also a $7,000 loan from the Industrial Development Corp. which will go to purchase land and an existing building and also to construct a new building and to purchase equipment and machinery necessary to repair heavy equipment.

K&K now employs 10 persons. The expansion project will create five new jobs.

Started In Cheese Plant
The company is owned by Clayton Kanerva and Robert Koski, who started it modestly in an abandoned cheese plant and expanded into their present quarters in the former Rock Cooperative warehouse. The business was started with financing from a $25,000 SBA loan, said David Farrand, industrial development officer of the Upper Peninsula Committee For Area Progress (UPCAP), which has been working with the partners for a year on the present growth project.

Deltans Honored On Tech's List For Scholastics

HOUGHTON — Fifty students at Michigan Tech achieved a 4.0 (straight-A) during the fall quarter including: Joel W. Gerdeen, majoring in mechanical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gerdeen, Route 1, Escanaba; Keith N. Apelgren, majoring in pre-med, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Apelgren, 807 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone; and Daniel R. Sikarskie, majoring in forestry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sikarskie, Route 1, Box 109, Manistique.

Sixty-three seniors at Michigan Tech were named to the dean's list during the fall quarter for earning a grade point average of 3.5 or higher, including:

Carl J. Wick, majoring in mechanical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wick, Rte. 1, Cornell; Robert J. Chouinard, majoring in electrical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chouinard, Route 1, Gladstone and Bruce L. Hawkins, majoring in civil engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hawkins, 1109 Dakota Ave., Gladstone; Ronald J. Sikarskie, majoring in mechanical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sikarskie, Route 1, Manistique; and Leroy J. Weber, majoring in mechanical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Weber, 120 S. 2nd St., Wells.

Thomas L. Kortved, majoring in civil engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kortved, 1328 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, a junior, was also a Dean's List honoree.

William J. McKilligan, majoring in electrical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ian McKilligan, Indian Lake Road, Manistique; and Dwayne D. Nygard, majoring in accounting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Nygard, 526 Garden Ave., Manistique, were sophomores on the Dean's List and so was Glenn E. Lamberg, majoring in forestry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lamberg Sr., Route 3, Rapid River.

Robert Koski said that the business has been operating for three years and is now in a 160x40 foot building which was formerly a warehouse. The firm plans to buy this building and to construct an addition 120-60 feet. It will be equipped with overhead crane so that it can handle heavier equipment for maintenance and repair than the present facilities.

K&K is mainly engaged in production of weldments for Harnischfeger Corp., and General Automotive & Machine, Inc. of Escanaba and other firms, and in metal fabricating and in hydraulics. It has lathes and drills and other machine shop equipment and has built up its business "so that it is running out of room."

Its maintenance work includes big trucks, graders and other equipment from K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base and from Kincheloe Air Force Base. The firm also builds mining equipment for the White Pine Copper Co. and other firms.

Inventive Partners
"The partners have been fantastically inventive and ingenious," said Farrand "in the development of metal working business. And the people of Rock deserve great credit for support of this local business and its employment opportunities which the partners have created. Paul Harkonen of UPCAP has been working with the community in the creation of the Industrial Development Corp., which will participate in the financing of the project."

"The firm is now a partnership and it will be changed into a corporation. I foresee its eventual employment of 25 to 30 men in its shops."

Milliken Plans Crime Battle

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken pledged today to initiate a comprehensive long range revision of the state's entire judicial system to crack down on crime, violence and traffic fatalities.

In a speech before a statewide gathering of law enforcement officials, Milliken said the plan would include the courts, police agencies, correctional systems, prosecuting and defense attorneys, and social agencies.

"Only by adopting such a broad, truly comprehensive approach to the system itself can we hope to meaningfully affect the root problem—crime itself," Milliken said.

A $667,800 federal grant will pay for the planning program, Milliken said, with 40 per cent of the funds to go for local and regional planning to combat everything from the minor property damage accident to the multiple fatality, from the petty burglar to the Mafia.

"In a larger sense, I would also like to point out that we—state and local officials—must work together not only for enforcement, but for justice," he said.

"We must think in terms of our entire system of justice," he said. "We must concern ourselves with the interrelation of these various agencies."

Library Board Sets Objectives

The objectives of the Library Advisory Board were outlined by acting librarian Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur when the newly-organized board met Thursday noon for luncheon.

Mrs. LeBrasseur cited three areas of concern in which the board could concentrate: long range objectives, interpreting the role of the library in the community; immediate objectives, getting a promotional campaign underway to inform residents of the library's many services; and general identification of problem areas, such as inadequate seating in the library.

Extend Hours
The local library, functioning as both a school and public library, maintains ties with the U. P. State Library Association and the Mid-Peninsula Library Association, a six-county library affiliation. Mrs. LeBrasseur explained. Services and materials available from these sources was detailed.

The board suggested that the Saturday library hours be expanded to 4 p. m. Presently the library is open from 12 noon to 2:30 p. m. on Saturdays. The suggestion will be referred to the county library board for action.

Outdoor Sign

The possibility of an outdoor sign, to be attached to the big outdoor bulletin board, listing the library's hours for convenience of patrons was discussed.

The board elected Mrs. Richard Stoll chairman with Mrs. LeBrasseur serving as secretary. Monthly luncheon meetings will be held the fourth Thursday of each month at the high school. Next meeting will be Feb. 27.

Board members include Frank Hoholik, Mrs. Dorothy Shipman, Agner Dehlin, Mrs. Stoll and Mrs. LeBrasseur and ex-officio Richard Bonifas and Edwin E. Wuehle.

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Kenneth Pawley, Edith Gray, Everett Laverty, William Deloria and Bella Jensen.

Discharged were Robert Haddock, Ronald Frenette, Anna Blanchard, Donald McCarick, Amanda Sugden, Corina Gilbertson, Sally Goudreau and baby, and Paulette Demers and baby.

Fire Damages Stoken Home

Public safety firemen report severe fire damage to the first floor of a home owned by Lawrence Stoken, 214 E. Elm St. on Wednesday night.

Some household furnishings were burned and heavy smoke damage to the interior of the home was also reported. The fire was confined to the first floor and is believed to have started when an electric stove was left on.

Firemen responded to the call at 6 p. m. and stayed on the scene until 7:15 p. m.

Domed Stadium Is Under Study

DETROIT (AP)—Can a sports stadium similar to the Astro-dome be built on the State Fairground in Detroit and sustain itself without the use of state funds?

This is the question that the State Fair Authority hopes to answer with the help of experts.

Delmont L. Chapman of South Rockwood, chairman of the Michigan State Fair Authority and a former state representative, said one of the 12 engineering firms that bid on making the financial study is to be awarded a contract soon.

Four Michigan architects were interviewed Tuesday and the fair authority plans to meet again next Tuesday to recommend one to work with the engineering firm.

The study is to determine whether the stadium can be built, financed and maintained strictly through its own earning power.

Present plans call for the issuance of revenue bonds to finance the structure, Chapman said.

As the stadium is to be built on state owned property, only the revenue can be pledged against the bonds. The State Building and Budget Departments are working along with the Fair Authority on the project.

Development of the stadium is planned as a joint venture between the Michigan State Fair Authority, Stadium Development Committee, under the State Department of Agriculture and the Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's Stadium Committee.

However, Mr. Chapman said a quasi-public corporation could be formed to lease the property from the Michigan Fair Authority then a board formed possibly with interlocking corporate and fair board membership.

The stadium and parking are to be located on little more than half of the 160-acre fairground site leaving sufficient room to conduct a safe fair. The parking for the fair would be supplemented by the stadium deck parking.

Olson Tells PTA Of Their Lobbying Force

How can a group become dominant enough to exercise some influence on legislation?

"Stop baking cookies and sewing curtains. Write letters. Get involved. Appoint a legislative committee so you can be informed. Become active in your district, region and state association so your voices can be heard."

This advice was offered by UPCA consultant Robert Olson when he spoke to the Hiawatha PTA Wednesday night. Olson, who lives in Escanaba, serves as consultant to the Community Action Program.

His topic was "School legislation and how it affects the school system."

Fairness

"The PTA is potentially the greatest lobbying force in existence in the state whose sole purpose is the welfare of the children of the state," he said.

There are approximately 300,000 PTA members in the state, Olson said, and the crucial time to watch legislation you're interested in is when that legislation is in committee.

Speaking out for fairness in State Aid and the current inequities in the present state aid program, the speaker said that "kids in the Upper Peninsula deserve as good an education as the kids in Bloomfield Hills."

Spending More

Some school districts are spending three times as much per child as other districts with the resultant void in program content.

"Some small districts, like the Manistique district, send the cream of their youth to other areas. Shouldn't other districts contribute equally so that our children can have equal educational opportunities?" he asked.

Referring to the recent J. Allen Thomas Report, an educational survey, he said that the report bore out an unfair financial balance in the state aid act. The legislature has been tardy in remedying these inequities, he concluded.

Former Teacher

Olson, a former Rapid River High School teacher and for two and one-half years legislative consultant for the Michigan Dept. of Education in Lansing, was introduced by Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle.

During the business meeting, conducted by PTA president Wilbur LaBar, the PTA decided to purchase uniforms for the school's elementary basketball team. The PTA will also sponsor student pictures which will be taken Feb. 17.

No decision was reached, after considerable discussion, on whether to continue the national affiliation with PTA.

Police Agent Nabs Peddler

DETROIT (AP) — A casual contact between a Detroit youth and a police undercover agent resulted in a raid on a "hippie" apartment Thursday believed to be a depot for drug traffic to the city's affluent suburbs.

Police arrested 14 youths, including Mark Johnson, 18, who police said they suspect is supplying Birmingham-Bloomfield area high school students with marijuana, LSD and other drugs.

Inspector Joseph Brown, commander of the narcotics bureau, said Johnson's apartment had been under surveillance since Dec. 1. An undercover agent entered it Wednesday night and bought 11 pounds of marijuana for $1,050, Brown said.

He said the agent then introduced Sgt. Howard Austin to Johnson as "the man with the money," and that Johnson then handed him a business card and said: "Maybe we can do something in the future."

"Here's mine," Austin said, pulling out his police identification card. "You're under arrest."

Police said they confiscated 15½ pounds of marijuana, 500 doses of LSD and other unidentified drugs during the raid with a value of $68,000.

They described the apartment as a "typical hippie narcotics" place and one officer said those arrested "all look like a bunch of Tiny Tims," referring to the long-haired male entertainer.

Need Smooth Area For Tiles

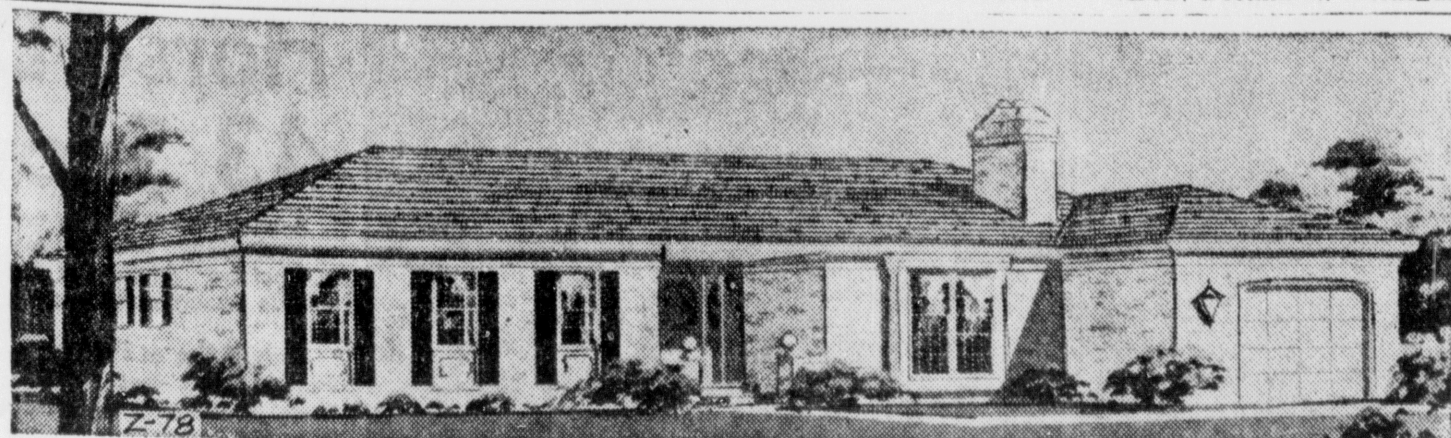

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

QUESTION: We have a small second bathroom in an old house. I'd like to put ceramic tiles on the floor. Is it difficult?

ANSWER: It's not difficult, but it does require careful work. You didn't say what kind of floor is now in the bathroom. Among the suitable surfaces are level concrete, wood floors in good condition and half-inch or thicker exterior-type plywood over a subfloor. The main thing is that the surface must be smooth.

The small unglazed tiles come pasted on sheets of paper approximately one foot wide and two feet long. The joints are already the proper width. The adhesive must be spread thinly, otherwise it will work up between the joints. Set the sheets of tile in place with the papered side uppermost.

Align the sheets carefully and press them into the exact position as soon as possible. Use a ready-made grout. Remove excess grout from the tile with a damp sponge or cloth. The grouted joints then should be wet down with a sponge two or three times a day so that the grout will "cure" properly.

DELICATE DETAIL of exterior is typical of French Provincial styling. Panels in the garage door, for example, are of a size compatible with the balance of the front. Note

In custom home building, a departure from the conventional usually raises the cost beyond what the average purchaser is prepared to pay. Yet, many buyers insist on something different and have the wherewithal to satisfy their wishes.

The latest House of the Week was designed by architect Herman H. York with the intention of providing a compromise. It's a modified French Provincial, done with the traditional hip roof and using details typical of this style, which might be termed somewhat more sophisticated and perhaps more elegant than most ranch houses.

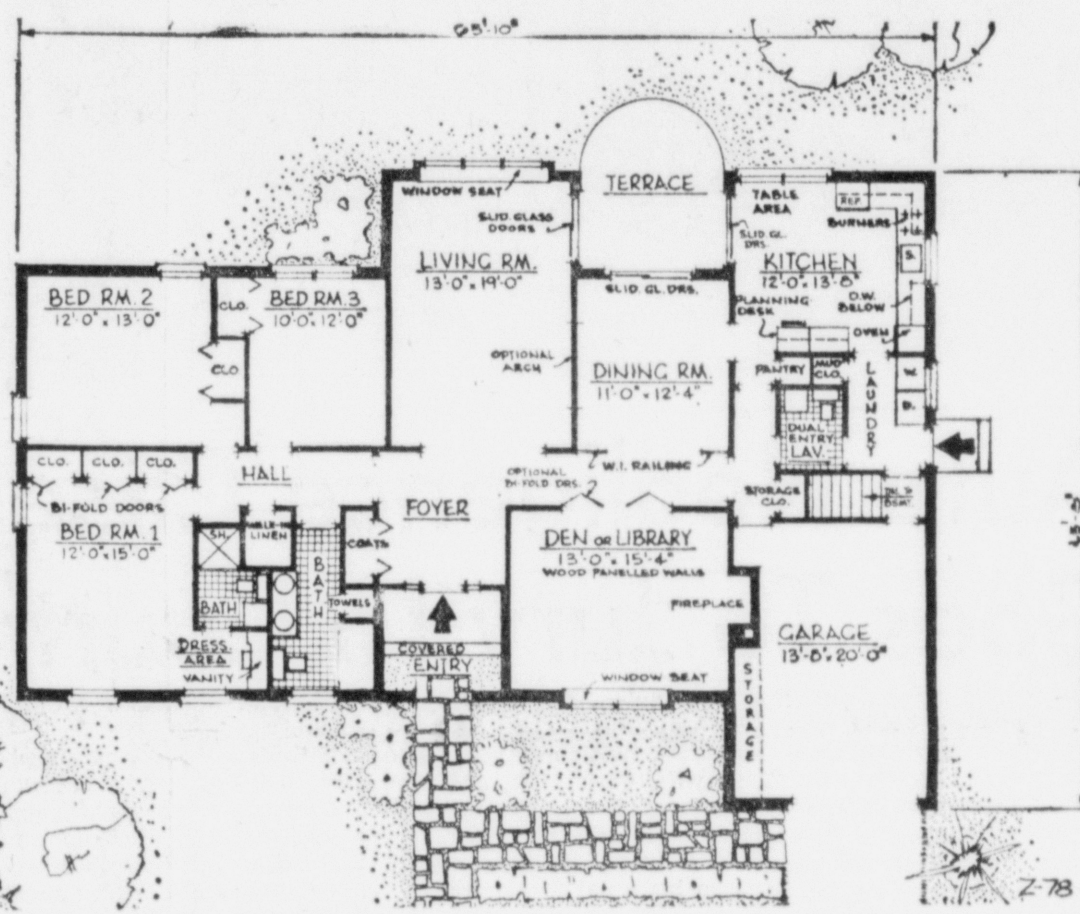

VIEW FROM FOYER extends through living room to window wall at rear of house. Terrace is accessible through sliding doors in the living room and similar doors in adjacent dining room.

Z-78 STATISTICS

Design Z-78 has a living room, dining room, den, kitchen, laundry, three bedrooms, two baths, a lavatory and a foyer, with a total habitable area of 1932 square feet. The one-car garage has a storage area built into one wall. Plans call for a basement. Overall dimensions, which include the garage, are 65' 10" by 45' 8".

The architect would like to have specified, among other things, a slate or tile roof, more detailed cornice moldings, special shutters, special brick, etc., but he has used those materials with which home builders are familiar and which are readily available. Thus, even though the styling of the French Provincial period has been carried out, the house falls into the "modified" category.

The floor plan of Design Z-78 is not unusual in its relationship of rooms to one another, but an examination discloses many desirable features to provide convenient and sensible family living.

FLOOR PLANS: Good traffic circulation, with entry foyer as the hub, is immediately apparent. In addition, there are entrances to the living room, dining room and kitchen from the rear; and entrances to the kitchen from the side and the garage.

of the living room all the way back to the rear of the house.

An attractive window seat has storage space below it. And there are sliding glass doors to a terrace. The adjacent dining room has the same kind of doors leading to the same terrace. While the plans call for a solid wall between the living room and the dining room, an archway opening between them is optional.

To the right of the foyer is a wood paneled room that can be used as a den, library or family room. It has a fireplace and a window seat similar to that in the living room. The kitchen is accessible from the foyer without going through any other room, from the right side of the house, from the dining room and from the rear terrace. It is next to the laundry room, a mud closet, a pantry, a dual-entry lavatory and the stairway to the basement.

The bedroom wing, at the right side of the house, is reached directly from the front foyer. There are three bedrooms and two baths, the main bathroom having twin lavatories and a towel closet separate from the walk-in closet in the bedroom hall. The private bath in the master bedroom has a stall shower with an adjacent vanity and dressing area.

In carrying out the French Provincial styling, architect Herman H. York has chosen a brick veneer finish completely around the house. The front elevation is done with a minimum variety of window sizes. Care has been taken to keep the windows of the bedroom wing uniform even though one of them is in a bathroom. A covered entry with low brick wall makes for a pleasant approach to the front door.

Things Hang On With Right Wall Fastener

By MR. FIX

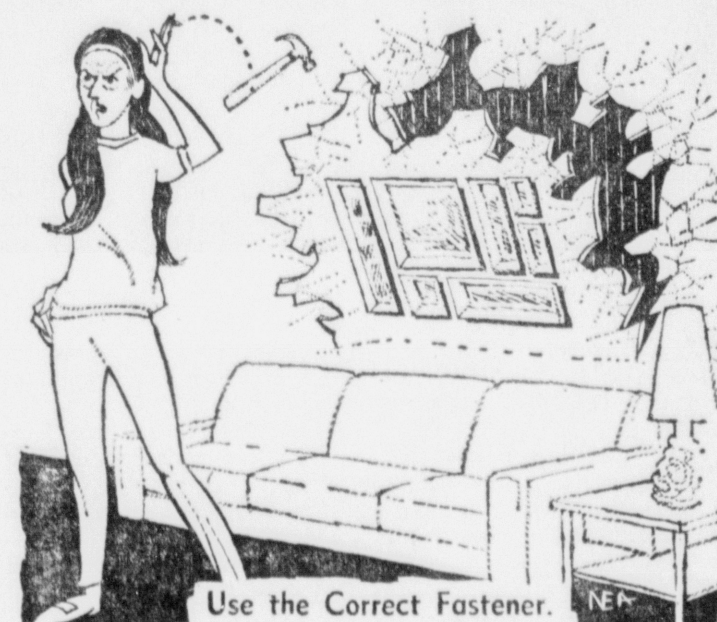

Wall fasteners have come a long way since the day of the simple picture hook with a nail that you put up with a bang of a hammer.

Wall fasteners for home, garage and basement come in every conceivable shape, size and material. What you want is something that will go up with a minimum of trouble, will hold the object and will stay there. You also want something that will do a minimum of damage to the wall.

Fasteners are generally rated by weight, assuring you that it will hold a given load without bending or breaking. A little more difficult to determine is whether you have the right fastener for the right set of conditions. You should know if a particular fastener is to be used in a hollow or solid wall.

When you read the manufacturer's instructions, look for key words, such as "hollow wall," "solid wall." In hollow-wall fasteners, look for such designations as short, long and extra-long, the choice here depending on the thickness of the wall. If uncertain, buy the medium-length fastener, the one designated as long.

The expansion bolt, a bolt with a partially split metal

sleeve, and the toggle bolt are best for dry wall use. The solid part of the sleeve, near the head of the bolt, is long or short, depending on the thickness of the dry wall.

Plastic anchors or plugs are used with either wood or sheet metal screws and are preferable in solid plaster. Make a hole for the anchor first and set the anchor in flush with the wall surface. The screw will expand it as it is tightened.

Lead screw anchors are used with wood, sheet metal or lag screws in masonry. Use one with a flared collar on hollow masonry. The collar will prevent it from falling through.

Those used with solid masonry are cut lengthwise so that they will expand evenly all around. Generally used in outside masonry, in the mortar joint, are the lag screw expansion shields. These have corrugations on the outside for extra holding power. As the lag bolt is tightened, the two halves of the shield expand in the mortar joint against the brick.

For smaller screws in masonry, consider fiber plugs. These are made of braided jute and are lead-lined. Pick a plug that is only as long as the screw's threaded part.

Since manufacturers are constantly coming up with new products, you will find new variations on these all the time. One neoprene fastener has a brass nut which is drawn up as the screw is tightened. This can be used almost anywhere.

Whatever the material—lead, plastic, nylon, jute, alloys—remember to pick the right fastener for a particular job. If you are uncertain, ask an experienced hardware dealer, one who carries a variety of wall fasteners. Remember that many fasteners look alike but will not function alike.

Chemical Will Remove Wallpaper

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures Writer

QUESTION: Can you give me some advice on how to remove wallpaper from a plastered wall? Also, after the paper is removed, what particular kind of paint should be used?

ANSWER: You can soak the paper until it softens, then pull and scrape it off. If you use this old-fashioned method, do only a section of the wall at a time, since the idea is to wait long enough for the water to seep through the paper, but not so long that the area dries up. But our recommendation is to use a wallpaper remover, a chemical that does a better job of soaking through the paper. Follow the instructions on the container very carefully. Professionals usually use a steamer, which does a faster job and which is especially good in stubborn cases.

If you decide to use a steamer, you can rent one, at which time the dealer will show you how to operate it. You can use any kind of paint you want, just as though there had been no paper on the wall. However, it is important that all the old paste be removed from the wall. Ask your paint dealer for a product that will soften the old paste and permit it to be washed off.

'Project Will' Creates Better Understanding

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The initial phase of a program in which 65 white and Negro high school students lived together at an expensive boardwalk hotel has ended on an optimistic note.

The students agreed that both races can live and learn together.

"It was great," said a 16-year-old white student, Cathy Podler. "It made the kids look at people as individuals, and got a chance to talk with kids with lots of different backgrounds."

A Negro student, Roberta Smith, 15, said the experiment changed her attitudes toward whites.

Didn't Understand

"I don't think they understood the young blacks of America. The project helped us to understand one another," Roberta said.

The experiment, called Project Will, is aimed at solving racial problems at Atlantic City High School, where police have patrolled the corridors to prevent clashes between white and Negro youths.

The 65 youths, from the city's Negro slums and white bedroom suburbs, have eaten, talked and done their homework together for two months at the Traymore Hotel after returning from classes each day. They went home on weekends.

All Volunteers

They all volunteered, with their parents' consent. Seven other students dropped out for personal reasons, according to project officials.

The students, equally divided between white and Negro, stayed in fourth-floor rooms, girls in one wing and boys in another. They shared rooms with someone of the opposite race, and a teacher-counselor was available at all times.

The experiment is financed by a $100,000 grant from the federal government under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

With the first half over, the parents and teachers are now attending workshops to evaluate the program. The students return to the hotel Feb. 24.

Project director Edgar Harris, who is also president of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he hopes the 65 youths will take their experiences and lessons they shared to the other 2,800 high school students and act as a catalyst for changes there.

"They feel the project has given them an opportunity to discuss things they want to talk about," Harris said.

More Voice

In the final half of the experiment, the students will have more of a voice in the composition of the program. Harris said the students already turned down two teachers as counselors and suggested there be fewer chaperones.

As for the hotel itself, a Traymore executive said the regular guests did not mind the youngsters being there.

"In fact," he added, "their presence made the atmosphere brighter and livelier."

Pine Ridge PTA Meeting Held

The January meeting of the Pine Ridge PTA was held on Jan. 23 at 8 p. m. Due to the inclement weather, the program for the evening was postponed until a future date.

Room count was won by Mrs. Carol Pfannenstiel's 3rd and 4th grade rooms.

Arrangements were made for members of the PTA to represent Pine Ridge at the Founder's Day program. Mrs. C. Witte and Mrs. A. Quahebeur volunteered to serve on the program that evening. Plans were also made for a card party to be held in April.

The next meeting will be held in March and a "Father's Night" will be held with fathers serving the lunch. A movie entitled, "Coho Fishing," will also be shown.

DST Backers Hold Slim Hope

LANSING (AP)—Backers of Daylight Savings Time held out slim hope today that a recount would reverse the apparent defeat suffered in the November election.

State election officials said today that Daylight Savings Time trailed by about 550 votes. Only 25 precincts remain to be counted before the recount is complete.

The precincts are located in Iosco and Schoolcraft counties. State election director Bernard A. J. said Schoolcraft County residents voted 2,874-714 against the proposal in the fall election.

Iosco County residents opposed the measure by a margin of 3,490-3,292.

For the vote to be overturned, election officials said, an average of about 22 votes per precinct would be needed—much

Kincheloe Base Gets Inspection

WASHINGTON (AP)—A team of government officials will fly to Sault Ste. Marie next Thursday to discuss the future of Kincheloe Air Force Base with community leaders.

The big base now is scheduled to close in October, 1970.

Government officials will meet both Thursday and Friday with local officials at the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie is striving to convince the government the base should be kept in operation or converted to some civilian use, such as the location of a major industry or an international port for freight-carrying airplanes.

Kincheloe's 11,000 population makes it the Upper Peninsula's fifth largest community and accounts for an estimated 30 to 40 per cent of the retail business of Sault Ste. Marie. In comparison, Sault Ste. Marie has a population of 19,000.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., and Rep. Phil Ruppe, R-Mich., jointly announced the plans for next week's meetings there.

Donald Bradford, director of the Office of Economic Adjustment of the Defense Department, will head the group.

Others expected to make the trip include representatives of the Departments of Housing and Urban Development and Health Education and Welfare, the General Services Administration, the Federal Aviation Agency, the Economic Development Administration and possibly the Small Business Administration.

Sen. Griffin wrote former Defense Chief Clark Clifford 10 months ago asking that the closing date be extended at least until manned bombers are phased out.

Ruppe has explored the possibility of transferring activities at Selfridge AFB, near Mount Clemens to Kincheloe and turning Selfridge into a commercial airport.

Horse Ditches 43 Snowmobiles

A single horse put an end to snowmobiling activity for 43 prospective Arctic Cat snowmobile owners early this morning.

State Police of the Gladstone Post reported that a flat-bed truck loaded with the snowmobiles and two crates of replacement parts ran into the ditch off U. S. 2 and 41 just east of Wilson about 3:40 a. m. today after hitting the horse.

All the crates containing the snowmobiles and parts shifted off the truck.

Earl Witkop, Rte. 1, Interlochen, the driver of the truck, told State Police he saw the horse standing along the shoulder, but he was unable to avoid the animal when it moved onto the highway into the path of the eastbound truck.

The truck ran off the right side of the road and hit a tree with the entire load of snowmobiles shifting off the trailer.

Men using wreckers and other loading machines ran into difficulties this morning in salvage operations as the box crates in which the machines

Wisconsin Tax Hikes Proposed

MADISON, Wis. — An across the board tax increase was proposed by Gov. Knowles Thursday to raise $416.4 million in new money for state operations and local aids during the next two years.

Knowles proposed to finance his recommended $1.601 billion 1969-'71 budget:

- A general sales tax, maintained at the present 3 per cent rate, with a credit for food and drugs of $8 per person. This would produce an additional $289.9 million additional in the two year budget period.
- A half per cent increase in income tax rates, over two years, except that the top rate would stay at 10 per cent. It would produce $87.5 million more.
- Raise all excise taxes on cigarettes, liquor and beer to produce $48.1 million in additional funds.

Cigarettes would be taxed at 12 cents per pack, instead of 10 cents, liquor taxes would go from $2.25 per gallon to $3, and the beer tax would go from $1 a barrel to $3.

The tax on beer has not been increased in 35 years.

Nixon Visits Capital's Slums

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon paid his first visit today to a riot-wrecked section of Washington's Negro slums and, discussing the rebuilding task, said "we'll all act together."

Without advance announcement, Nixon drove to a 7th St. business district hard hit in the rioting last April that followed the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

He did so a few hours before launching the first phase of his promised anticrime effort—an undertaking that will begin in the nation's capital.

The chief executive looked on as a wrecking crane began knocking down the gutted shell of "Waxie Maxie's Discount Record Department Store."

A "vest pocket park and playground" will be built on the site of Waxie Maxie's and an adjacent clothing store that now is but a heap of rubble.

The streets were washed down by sanitation workers shortly before Nixon's arrival and there was heavy police security in the area.

Nixon, however, walked directly into a Negro crowd gathered behind police lines across the street—in front of "Jimmie's Pool Room" and spent a few minutes shaking hands and exchanging greetings with neighborhood residents.

The United States has been cool to the idea.

Assign 26 Men To Guard LBJ

CHICAGO (AP) — Former President Johnson has been assigned 26 Secret Service men, two limousines and a pickup truck for travel around his Texas ranch, the Chicago Tribune reported today.

In addition, the Tribune said in a story from its Washington Bureau, Rep. Charlotte T. Reid, R-Ill., disclosed Thursday that the government leases 15 other vehicles to transport the Secret Service guards protecting the former President and Mrs. Johnson.

The vehicles leased from Ford Motor Co. are mostly ranch wagons and pickup trucks, said Rep. Reid, a member of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles Secret Service funds.

Mrs. Reid termed the 26 Secret Service men assigned to Johnson a "normal detail" for the protection of an ex-President.

No protection is provided for the two Johnson daughters, Luci Nugent and Lynda Robb, Mrs. Reid reported. Children of former presidents are not protected beyond age 16.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife, Mamie have 13 agents and five cars assigned to them, the Tribune said. The Eisenhower detail is smaller because he is hospitalized and not traveling much.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Defense Minister Gerhard Schroeder will confer with Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird in New York Saturday.

Auto Negligence Case Goes To Jury In Court

The trial of an auto negligence suit which began nearly three weeks ago, in Circuit Court for Delta County went to the jury today after nearly 14 days of testimony.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson ordered a directed verdict of "no cause of action" against one of the defendant parties — Arthur Baraton Jr. of Houghton.

The Baratonos were owners of a 1965 Chevrolet Corvair automobile which broke loose from a Curran Chevrolet Sales, Inc., wrecker on June 18, 1966, while being towed on U.S. 2 in Garden Township.

The automobile crossed the highway into the path of a car occupied by James Selmo and his wife, Carole, Mr. and Mrs. Selmo of Grosse Pointe Woods both were seriously injured in the collision. He is paralyzed from his waist to his feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Selmo, plaintiffs in the action, filed suit against Leo, Donald and Elsworth Curran of Manistiquette, owners of Curran Chevrolet Sales; the Baratonos, and Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corp., asking damages from each.

Baratonos Not Liable

In directing the verdict of "no cause of action" in the suit against the Baratonos Thursday afternoon, Judge Bernard H. Davidson said "there was no liability in the court's opinion" on the part of the Baratonos.

Arthur Baraton Jr. was riding in the automobile when it broke loose from the wrecker and the plaintiffs had alleged negligence on his part in failing to control the car after the breakaway. The Baratonos claimed that there was no time to control the car in the short time before the collision.

Deny Negligence

In his closing argument to the jury, Attorney Nicholas Chapekis of Escanaba, who is representing the Selmos, asked damages of $1,280,450 for James Selmo and $120,695 for Carol Selmo.

The plaintiffs alleged negligence on the part of Curran Chevrolet in failing to make a proper towing hookup and also alleged the wrecker was traveling in excess of the speed limit. The plaintiffs alleged that General Motors Corp. was negligent in design and manufacture of a bumper bracket on the front end of the Corvair which ruptured in the towing operations.

Both Curran Chevrolet and General Motors denied negligence.

Judge Davidson told the jury this morning that five verdicts are possible, including no cause of action against either defendant. The jury also was told they could find in favor of the Selmos against both parties, against Curran Chevrolet and not General Motors, or against General Motors and not Curran Chevrolet.

The fifth possibility, the judge said, would result if a verdict in favor of the Selmos was returned against Curran Chevrolet or against Curran Chevrolet and General Motors. In that event, the judge said, the jury would have to decide on Curran Chevrolet's third-party complaint against General Motors.

Ten Must Agree

In the third party action, Curran Chevrolet asked that if damages are awarded the Selmos from Curran Chevrolet that they be set over against General Motors because Curran alleged GM failed to properly notify and instruct the dealership of proper towing procedures and possible dangers involved in towing the Corvair automobile.

Trial of the case began in Circuit Court Monday, Jan. 6. Twelve of the 14 jurors who heard the case will consider the evidence and testimony. Judge Davidson said today that the verdict returned must be the verdict of 10 or more jurors. In civil cases, he said, the law has been changed not to require a unanimous verdict by all jurors.

Uncover Huge Viet Cong Base

SAIGON (AP) — American air cavalrymen have uncovered a huge North Vietnamese base spread over four square miles northwest of Saigon. U.S. officers said they think it was being built in preparation for a winter-spring offensive.

The base is believed to be the largest ever uncovered in the war and could accommodate perhaps 5,000 or more enemy troops. It contained hundreds of bunkers, a large underground hospital, dining halls, a bicycle repair shop, and a command post.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division came on the base while on a sweep along jungle trails in the long-time Viet Cong stronghold known as War Zone C. The base was found some 53 miles northwest of Saigon and 14 miles south of the Cambodian border.

Lt. Col. Frank Henry of Franklin, N.C., told AP photographer Rick Merron during a survey of the area that his troops had already counted 354 bunkers of various sizes and that he estimates there are 750 to 1,000 bunkers in the whole area.

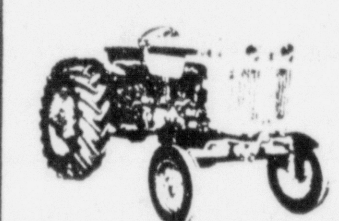

"They've been doing a lot of work on this complex in the last month," Henry said. "We think they were preparing for the coming offensive down South," meaning attacks on U.S. and South Vietnamese installations closer to Saigon and possibly on the capital itself.

Merron flew over the area in a helicopter and said the triple-canopied jungle made it invisible from the air.

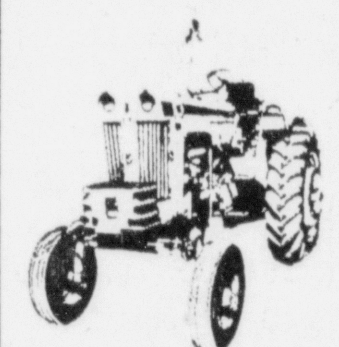

A captured North Vietnamese told the air cavalrymen that there was something in the area. He said he knew of a hospital but couldn't pinpoint it.

The air cavalrymen were turning up bunkers so fast that engineers called in to blow them up were hard put to keep up.

Library Board Sets Objectives

The objectives of the Library Advisory Board were outlined by acting librarian Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur when the newly-organized board met Thursday noon for luncheon.

Mrs. LeBrasseur cited three areas of concern in which the board could concentrate: long range objectives, interpreting the role of the library in the community; immediate objectives, getting a promotional campaign underway to inform residents of the library's many services; and general identification of problem areas, such as inadequate seating in the library.

Extend Hours
The local library, functioning as both a school and public library, maintains ties with the U. P. State Library Association and the Mid-Peninsula Library Association, a six-county library affiliation. Mrs. LeBrasseur explained. Services and materials available from these sources was detailed.

The board suggested that the Saturday library hours be expanded to 4 p. m. Presently the library is open from 12 noon to 2:30 p. m. on Saturdays. The suggestion will be referred to the county library board for action.

Outdoor Sign
The possibility of an outdoor sign, to be attached to the big outdoor bulletin board, listing the library's hours for convenience of patrons was discussed.

The board elected Mrs. Richard Stoll chairman with Mrs. LeBrasseur serving as secretary. Monthly luncheon meetings will be held the fourth Thursday of each month at the high school. Next meeting will be Feb. 27.

Board members include Frank Hoholik, Mrs. Dorothy Shipman, Agner Dehlin, Mrs. Stoll and Mrs. LeBrasseur and ex-officio Richard Bonifas and Edwin E. Wuehle.

Domed Stadium Is Under Study

DETROIT (AP)—Can a sports stadium similar to the Astrodome be built on the State Fairground in Detroit and sustain itself without the use of state funds?

This is the question that the State Fair Authority hopes to answer with the help of experts. Delmont L. Chapman of South Rockwood, chairman of the Michigan State Fair Authority and a former state representative, said one of the 12 engineering firms that bid on making the financial study is to be awarded a contract soon.

Four Michigan architects were interviewed Tuesday and the fair authority plans to meet again next Tuesday to recommend one to work with the engineering firm.

The study is to determine whether the stadium can be built, financed and maintained strictly through its own earning power.

Present plans call for the issuance of revenue bonds to finance the structure. Chapman said.

As the stadium is to be built on state owned property, only the revenue can be pledged against the bonds. The State Building and Budget Departments are working along with the Fair Authority on the project.

Development of the stadium is planned as a joint venture between the Michigan State Fair Authority, Stadium Development Committee, under the State Department of Agriculture and the Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's Stadium Committee.

However, Mr. Chapman said a quasi-public corporation could be formed to lease the property from the Michigan Fair Authority then a board formed possibly with interlocking corporate and fair board membership.

The stadium and parking are to be located on little more than half of the 160-acre fairground site leaving sufficient room to conduct a safe fair. The parking for the fair would be supplemented by the stadium deck parking.

Olson Tells PTA Of Their Lobbying Force

How can a group become dominant enough to exercise some influence on legislation?

"Stop baking cookies and sewing curtains. Write letters. Get involved. Appoint a legislative committee so you can be informed. Become active in your district, region and state association so your voices can be heard."

This advice was offered by UPCA consultant Robert Olson when he spoke to the Hiawatha PTA Wednesday night. Olson, who lives in Escanaba, serves as consultant to the Community Action Program. His topic was "School legislation and how it affects the school system."

Fairness
"The PTA is potentially the greatest lobbying force in existence in the state whose sole purpose is the welfare of the children of the state," he said.

There are approximately 300,000 PTA members in the state, Olson said, and the crucial time to watch legislation you're interested in is when that legislation is in committee.

Speaking out for fairness in State Aid and the current inequities in the present state aid program, the speaker said that "kids in the Upper Peninsula deserve as good an education as the kids in Bloomfield Hills."

Spending More
Some school districts are spending three times as much per child as other districts with the resultant void in program content.

"Some small districts, like the Manistique district, send the cream of their youth to other areas. Shouldn't other districts contribute equally so that our children can have equal educational opportunities?" he asked.

Referring to the recent J. Allen Thomas Report, an educational survey, he said that the report bore out an unfair financial balance in the state aid act. The legislature has been tardy in remedying these inequities, he concluded.

Former Teacher
Olson, a former Rapid River High School teacher and for two and one-half years legislative consultant for the Michigan Dept. of Education in Lansing, was introduced by Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle.

During the business meeting, conducted by PTA president Wilbur LaBar, the PTA decided to purchase uniforms for the school's elementary basketball team. The PTA will also sponsor student pictures which will be taken Feb. 17.

No decision was reached, after considerable discussion, on whether to continue the national affiliation with PTA.

Police Agent Nabs Peddler

DETROIT (AP)—A casual contact between a Detroit youth and a police undercover agent resulted in a raid on a "hippie" apartment Thursday believed to be a depot for drug traffic to the city's affluent suburbs.

Police arrested 14 youths, including Mark Johnson, 18, who police said they suspect is supplying Birmingham-Bloomfield area high school students with marijuana, LSD and other drugs.

Inspector Joseph Brown, commander of the narcotics bureau, said Johnson's apartment had been under surveillance since Dec. 1. An undercover agent entered it Wednesday night and bought 11 pounds of marijuana for $1,050, Brown said.

He said the agent then introduced Sgt. Howard Austin to Johnson as "the man with the money," and that Johnson then handed him a business card and said: "Maybe we can do something in the future."

"Here's mine," Austin said, pulling out his police identification card. "You're under arrest."

Police said they confiscated 15½ pounds of marijuana, 500 doses of LSD and other unidentified drugs during the raid with a value of $68,000.

They described the apartment as a "typical hippie narcotics" place and one officer said those arrested "all look like a bunch of Tiny Tims," referring to the long-haired male entertainer.

What a year for bowling in the Escanaba area this year has been! All sorts of team records have been set; three 700 series have been bowled, Dave Friets — 730, Lou Parlato — 715 and Billy Schinzel — 700 and now the height of bowling perfection — a 300 game.

X X X
Ken Smith included the perfect game with 170 and 224 games Friday night in the Mixed Couples League at the Bowl-A-Rama Lanes for a 694 series. Smith didn't let up on Tuesday night either, as he had an even 600 series in the Classic League. The last 300 game in Delta County was bowled by Tony Gill's at the Midway Lanes in Gladstone in October, 1967, and the last in Escanaba in 1940 by Leonard "Gump" Olson.

After a 300 game is bowled, the league secretary must inform the association secretary within 24 hours and the pins must be cleared from the lanes immediately after the match to be weighed by the team captains or league secretary. The association secretary must inform the American Bowling Congress within 72 hours after the event and the lanes must be measured and a complete report sent into the ABC. For his 300 game, Smith will get a mantle clock from the ABC and a $50 War Bond from the Bowl-A-Rama.

X X X
Dave Friets had a big week bowling at the Continental Lanes by rolling games of 246 and 222 and posting series scores of 650, 645 and 618. Oddly enough, in the 645 series, Dave had scores of 214, 215 and 216.

Dr. Bill Hemes and Dr. James Gordon had quite a battle in the Delta League Wednesday night at the Holiday Bowl. Hemes, who carries a 166 average, rolled a 277 game in his 608 series to top Gordon, who bowls a 165 average, with a 255 game in his 602 series. On the same night, Paul DeBen had a 232 game and the Kiwanis team had a 995 scratch game and a 2708 series. The team had a 783 average. In all, ten games of 200 or better were bowled and 11 190 or better games were rolled.

X X X
Thursday night at the Midway Lanes in Gladstone, Marian Thiergen bowled games of 229, 189 and 209 for a 627 series, the highest series of the year for a woman in Gladstone. In the Hiawatha Women's Bowling Association tournament at the Continental Lanes, Marian had 201 and 237 games and with her handicap finished with a 602 series.

Mabel Gran of Gladstone bowled a 124 triplicate Wednesday night at the Midway Lanes.

X X X
Last Thursday night at the Bowl-A-Rama Lanes, Lois Cox rolled games of 188, 216 and 199 for a 603 series which was the second highest series bowled at the Bowl-A-Rama by a woman this season. On the same night Lu Rockman had a 218 game and Pat Heyman picked up the 8-10 split.

Bowlers in the Classic League at the Bowl-A-Rama were out again Thursday night. Miracle Market had games of 978, 1019 and 993 for a 2990 series and Sandberg's had a 1026 game and a 2880 series. Some of the high scorers were Jack Beck, 124, 233-648; Billy Schinzel, 238-647; Red Holmes, 233-636; Jack Holmes, 235-623; Doc Stanchina, 220-609; John Marinac, 620; Barney Barnhart, 224-603; Dave Johnston, 223 and Chuck Peltier, 224.

X X X
The same night Ken Smith bowled his 300 game, Harold Krusic had scores of 196, 244 and 246 for a 686 series and Bill Elliott had a 230 game. The Misfits team of the league had games of 699, 704 and 735 for a 2158 total and that's not bad for four people.

Split Pickers: Al Davidson, Lois Cox, Arlene Jerow, Betty Pepin, Kay LaMarche, Harold Olsen, Anne Joran, Bonnie Jehlin, B. J. Eleven Jumping Marks Set At Pine Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN — Majestic Pine Mountain, the hill which revolutionized the American sport of ski-jumping and became world famous, is being groomed for a big 30th birthday anniversary party here on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 5-16.

In the inaugural meet of 1939, when the awesome hill was aptized as the world's highest official ski slide, a Duluth, Minn., youngster, Bob Roecker, lured 25,000 spectators by spicing 257 feet for a new North American record. Last year, another Duluth youngster, 9-year-old Olympian Adrian Fatt, bailed out 337 feet for the Mountain's 11th North American record.

In the 30th anniversary weekend classics, Feb. 15-16, Fatt and five other U.S. Olympians will lead a field of 9 jumpers including two daredevils from Japan, in a try for the Mountain's 12th North American record. The target will be 350 feet.

That's a long way from the notage in the first ski tournament ever held in the United States. In 1887, a transplanted Norwegian, Mikkel Hemmestvedt, amazed the natives of Ed Wing, Minn., by leaping an amazing 37 feet without breaking his neck for the first North American record. Watt's record-breaker here last year bettered Hemmestvedt's feat by exactly 300 feet.

Since Pine Mountain gave birth to the then stagnant sport years ago, there has been a

Conference Races Headed For Final Week Showdown

It looks as though most conferences races in the U.P. are going to go right down to the final week of the season before a champion is decided and right now only one team seems to have things going pretty much their way.

Gwinn is sitting on top of the Land O' Lakes conference with a 5-0 mark and the closest teams to it all have suffered three losses in conference play. The Model Towners are also one of six teams sporting unbeaten marks in U.P. conference play.

Of interest to fans in the Escanaba area are the battles in the Great Northern, Central League, Skyline and Great Lakes conferences. Of the four leagues, the Great Lakes Conference seems to be the most settled as Munising holds a commanding 8-1 mark in league play. Gladstone is sitting in third place with a 4-2 mark and has little hope of moving up in the ranks. Manistique is at the bottom of the heap with a 0-8 record.

The Great Northern Conference seems to have a new leader every week and four of the teams still have a chance at the crown, three of which have only been beaten once. Menominee leads the pack with a 4-1 record, Escanaba is in second place with a 3-1 mark and Holy Name is in third place at 2-1. West Iron County is still very much in the race with a 3-2 mark.

The champion may not be decided until the final two weeks of the season when the leaders clash against each other. Holy Name has not played Menominee yet and Escanaba plays its first contest against West Iron County tonight. Starting on Feb. 14, Holy Name meets

West Iron County, Escanaba and Menominee and those three games could tell the tale.

The Central League shapes to be a battle between Bark River, Perkins, Trenary and Big Bay de Noc. Bark River and Perkins clash tonight and a victory by Perkins would put them in the top spot. Trenary and Big Bay de Noc are tied for third place with 5-3 records.

Powers has come alive as of late and appears ready to make a bid for the championship in the Skyline Conference. Channing and National Mine lead the standings now with identical 8-2 records but the Tigers have run up a string of eight victories and appear to be ready to challenge the leaders.

One of the top races in the U.P. is the battle between Houghton (10-0) and Ontonagon (8-0) in the Copper Country Conference. The two teams square off on Feb. 28 and the league crown could be the prize for the victor.

Oregon State Triumphs; Seeking Victory Record

By The Associated Press

Oregon State's party-poopers turned Portland's homecoming celebration into a Sour Sixteen party Thursday night.

The Beavers, seeking to become the second college basketball team to win 1,000 games, made it 995 with an easy 83-59 victory that left Portland the nation's only major team that hasn't won a game. The Pilots are 0-16.

Kentucky reached 1,000 wins earlier this month and Kansas, with 998, is in second place.

Coach Paul Valenti of Oregon State was worried about the game, mainly because Portland had won its last two homecoming games from the Beavers. "Any time a team makes a special effort it can be tough," Valenti said, "and Portland has a habit of making a special effort against us."

The Pilots tried a zone but Oregon State shot over it at a 62.9 per cent clip in the first half to take a 47-28 lead. All five starters scored in double figures, paced by 17 apiece for Gary Freeman and Bill More, although Portland's Bill Ricks took game honors with 26.

"If we could put everything in one game, things might be a little different, moaned Portland's Bill Turner, who has a 5-37 record in his second year as head coach.

The only member of The Associated Press' Top Twenty to see action Thursday night was 11th-ranked Duquesne, which bowed to Detroit and Olympic star Spencer Haywood 76-66. The 6-foot-8 Haywood, No. 4 scorer in the land, popped in 31 points, grabbed 16 rebounds and blocked numerous shots.

Duquesne, behind by 10 at the half, caught up at 64-all but a layup by Bob Calihan, son of the Detroit coach, shot the Titans ahead to stay.

Eskymo Matmen Top Ishpeming

The Escanaba Eskymos kept their wrestling victory alive last night by taking a 33-18 decision over the Ishpeming Hematites in a match held at the Escanaba Area High School gym.

The Eskymos have now won seven dual meets this season without a loss and will seek to extend their streak against the Marquette Redmen, the preseason favorite to wrest the U. P. crown from the Eskymos, Monday night at home. Ishpeming upset the Redmen 24-19 in a match this past Tuesday night.

The Eskymos had to win their final four matches of the night to notch the victory over the Hematites last night and they responded with three pins and a decision. Getting pins for the Eskymos were Dale Ford, Mike Makoskey, Terry Brayak, Terry Scheenemen and Terry Williams.

The results:
95—Jeff Beilich (I) pinned Pat Frasher (E)
103—Paul Bertucci (I) pinned Mark Skradski (E)
112—Dan Vader (E) and Cliff Helise (I) drew

165—Terry Scheenemen (E) pinned Jim Heikkinen (I)
177—Duane Scheuren (E) dec. Doug Pearson (I)
HVV—Terry Williams (E) pinned Paul Cappoferri (I)

The Dukes played without 6-9 Barry Nelson, who suffered an eye injury while horsing around with his twin brother, Garry, in their room before the game.

North Texas State blasted Drake's Missouri Valley Conference title hopes 118-99, the Eagles' highest total in 12 years against an MVC rival. Crest Whitaker scored 36 points and Joe Hamilton 31 for the winners, who connected on 36 of 40 free throws.

In a game between MVC also-rans, Greg Carney's jump shot with six seconds left gave Wichita State a 71-69 triumph over hard-luck Memphis State. The Tigers have lost four games by one point and two games by two.

Notre Dame got Georgia's Tech's high-scoring Rich Yunkus in foul trouble, held him to 15 points and whipped the Yellow Jackets 71-52. Bob Arner pazed the Irish with 25.

Oklahoma City outlasted Creighton 98-94 despite 33 points by the losers' Bob Portman, who set a school scoring record of 1,674 points, seven more than Paul Silas, now a pro with the Atlanta Hawks.

Morehead State, the leading offensive team with an average of 93.1 points a game, had the tables turned as Southern Mississippi made off with a 93-85 win thanks to Wendell Ladner's 34 points and 24 rebounds.

Larry Lewis, the country's top rebounder, pulled down 21, just under his 21.6 average, and Bill Snodgrass netted 24 points as St. Francis of Pennsylvania stopped Montana 96-79.

Several Major Sports Teams Announce Moves

It was moving day Thursday for several coaches and players in football, hockey and basketball.

Two professional sports teams announced new coaches. Clive Rush, who molded the offense for the world champion New York Jets, took over as head coach of the American Football League's Boston Patriots. In the American Basketball Association, Verl "Gus" Young replaced Jim Harding as coach of the Minnesota Pipers.

Rush, the offensive coach under Weeb Ewbank of the Jets, takes over from Mike Holovak, who was fired as the Patriots' coach and general manager last month. No new GM has been named yet.

Young, former coach at Gustavus Adolphus College at St. Peter, Minn., moves up to the Pipers' coaching job after serving as the team's director of special promotions.

Harding was removed as coach of the ABA's Eastern All-Stars Tuesday night after becoming involved in an altercation with Gabe Rubin, minority owner of the Pipers, at a pre-game banquet in Louisville, Ky. In college sports, there were also coaching shifts.

James G. "Gerry" Alaimo was named basketball coach at Brown University, succeeding Stan Ward, whose resignation becomes effective June 30. Alaimo is a former Brown star and currently coach at Middlebury, Vt., College.

J. L. "Jake" McCandless was named football coach at Princeton University, replacing Dick Colman, who resigned last month to become athletic director at the University of California.

Bing, Pistons Defeat Seattle

By The Associated Press

The thought of playing near old neighbors seems to do something to the Pistons' Dave Bing. The former Washington, D. C. native scored 37 points and collected 10 rebounds at Baltimore Thursday night as the Pistons downed Seattle 144-118.

The runaway was with three points of the Pistons' 41 single-game scoring record.

It was also quite a turnaround from Wednesday's fiasco when the Detroit team scored only 37 per cent of its shots and lost to San Francisco 133-126.

The Pistons led 64-59 at the half, then came back strong to outscore the SuperSonics 15-3 at one point. That lead, nevertheless, shrank to eight points before the Pistons exploded for 42 points.

The considerably improved scoring amounted to 58 per cent of shots made from the floor by the Pistons, along with 84 per cent of free throws.

In other games, New York defeated the Baltimore Bullets 109-106, although the Bullets held on to first place over Philadelphia. The 76ers lost to Cincinnati 116-115 and Chicago topped San Francisco 111-110.

In American Basketball Association play, New Orleans tripped Miami 120-103, Denver scrubbed New York 123-103 and Oakland downed Indiana 146-143 in overtime.

The streaking Knicks blew all but one point of a 22-point third quarter lead before subduing Baltimore for their 20th victory in 24 games. Monroe's basket with 16 seconds to play, a pass theft and a bucket by Unself left the Bullets behind 107-106, and they picked off another Knick pass before Reed came up with the game saving pass.

After Reed leaped to bat down Monroe's shot, Unself tried to put in the rebound, but was called for charging Reed. The Knicks took the ball out and Dick Barnett sank two free throws after being fouled at the buzzer. Walt Frazier led New York with 28 points and teammate Dave DeBusschere had 22 points and 20 rebounds.

Monroe's 33 points paced the Bullets.

With 1:50 remaining in the Cincinnati-Philadelphia scrap, Jerry Lucas' field goal pulled the Royals within one point, 115-114. Then they swiped Cunningham's pass and fed Van Arsdale, who pumped in the deciding basket.

The 76ers blew a chance to win it when Chet Walker rimmed the basket with a last second shot.

Cunningham led all scorers with 36 points. Van Arsdale was high for the Royals with 26.

Bob Boozer scored 11 of his 25 points in the last quarter, helping Chicago break out of an 80-80 deadlock and snap San Francisco's winning streak at four games. Rudy Larusso put in 29 for the Warriors, who jumped off to a 15-point lead before the Bulls rallied behind Boozer.

Need Smooth Area For Tiles

By ANDY LANG

AP Newsfeatures
QUESTION: We have a small second bathroom in an old house. I'd like to put ceramic tiles on the floor. Is it difficult?

ANSWER: It's not difficult, but it does require careful work. You didn't say what kind of floor is now in the bathroom. Among the suitable surfaces are level concrete, wood floors in good condition and half-inch or thicker exterior-type plywood over a subfloor. The main thing is that the surface must be smooth.

The small unglazed tiles come pasted on sheets of paper approximately one foot wide and two feet long. The joints are already the proper width. The adhesive must be spread thinly, otherwise it will work up between the joints. Set the sheets of tile in place with the papered side up.

Align the sheets carefully and press them into the exact position as soon as possible. Use a ready-made grout. Remove excess grout from the tile with a damp sponge or cloth. The grouted joints then should be wet down with a sponge two or three times a day so that the grout will "cure" properly.

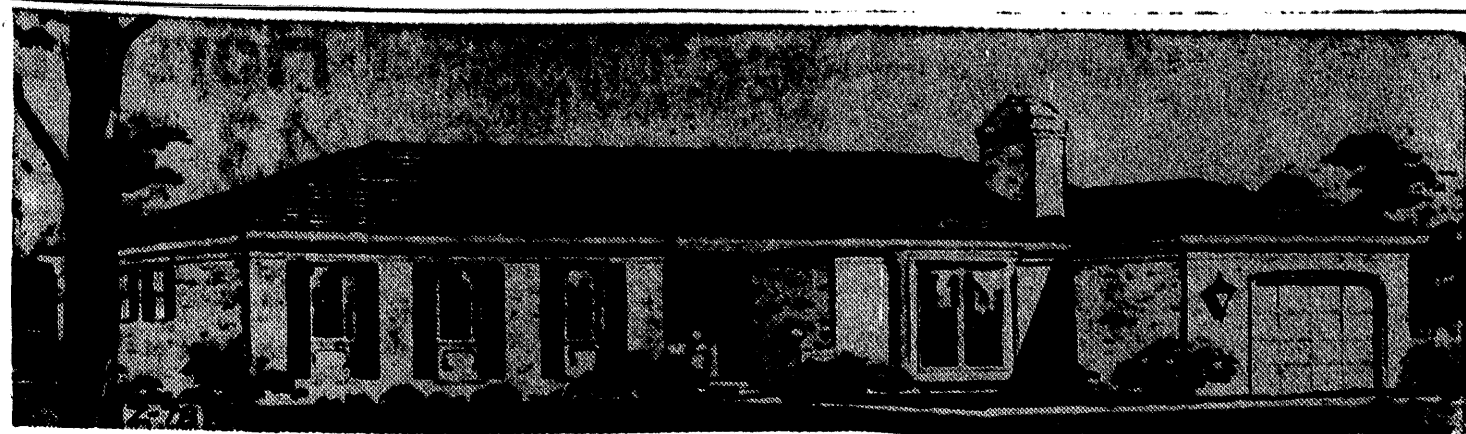

Rep. Ford Against Federal Time Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's Daylight Saving Time problems, were precipitated when Congress passed legislation enacting a nationwide plan, claimed House minority leader Gerald Ford, R-Mich. Thursday.

"I opposed that legislation," Ford said, in an interview, because I felt that enactment of such a federal law would create confusion and multiple problems rather than solve them. My feelings at the time the bill was passed and became law has proven out."

"Michigan for 30 years or more had been able to adequately handle the problem. Once we had a federal law that put dictation of the federal government nationwide, we have now run into a very difficult problem and a great confusion as a result."

When queried about the recount, Ford said, "I am surprised there seems to be such a variation."

French Provincial Styling

By ANDY LANG

In custom home building, a departure from the conventional usually raises the cost beyond what the average purchaser is prepared to pay. Yet, many buyers insist on something different and have the wherewithal to satisfy their wishes.

The latest House of the Week was designed by architect Herman H. York with the intention of providing a compromise. It's a modified French Provincial, done with the traditional hip roof and using details typical of this style, which might be termed somewhat more sophisticated and perhaps more elegant than most ranch houses.

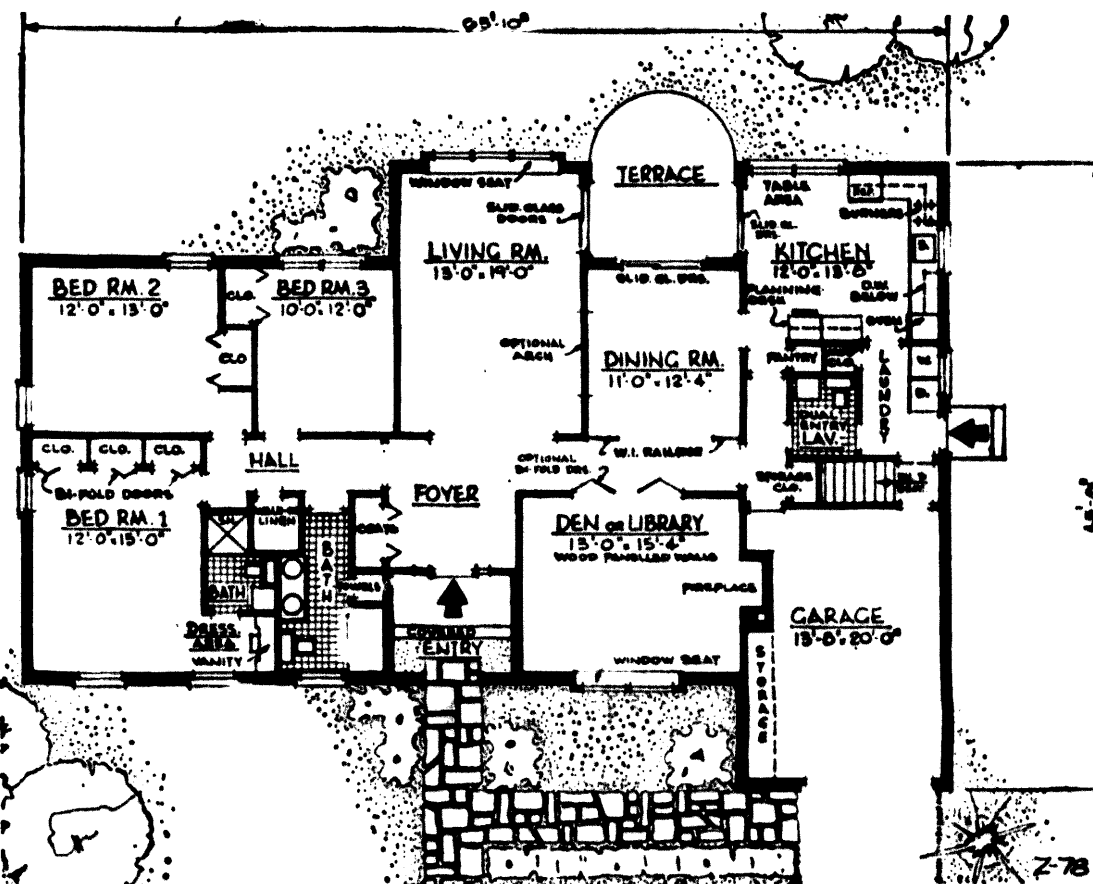

VIEW FROM FOYER extends through living room to window wall at rear of house. Terrace is accessible through sliding doors in the living room and similar doors in adjacent dining room.

Z-78 STATISTICS

Design Z-78 has a living room, dining room, den, kitchen, laundry, three bedrooms, two baths, a lavatory and a foyer, with a total habitable area of 1932 square feet. The one-car garage has a storage area built into one wall. Plans call for a basement. Overall dimensions, which include the garage, are 65' 10" by 45' 8".

The architect would like to have specified, among other things, a slate or tile roof, more detailed cornice moldings, special shutters, special brick, etc., but he has used those materials with which home builders are familiar and which are readily available. Thus, even though the styling of the French Provincial period has been carried out, the house falls into the "modified" category.

The floor plan of Design Z-78 is not unusual in its relationship of rooms to one another, but an examination discloses many desirable features to provide convenient and sensible family living. Moving past the covered entryway into the foyer, one gets an immediate view of the length of the living room all the way back to the rear of the house. An attractive window seat has storage space below it. And there are sliding glass doors to a terrace. The adjacent dining room has the same kind of doors leading to the same terrace. While the plans call for a solid wall between the living room and the dining room, an archway opening between them is optional.

FLOOR PLANS: Good traffic circulation, with entry foyer as the hub, is immediately apparent. In addition, there are entrances to the living room, dining room and kitchen from the rear; and entrances to the kitchen from the side and the garage.

Things Hang On With Right Wall Fastener

By MR. FIX

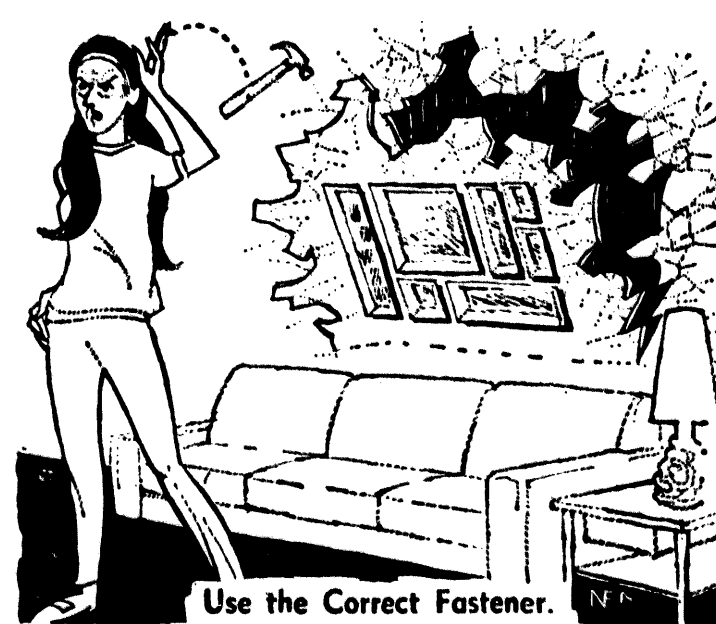

Wall fasteners have come a long way since the day of the simple picture hook with a nail that you put up with a bang of a hammer.

Wall fasteners for home, garage and basement come in every conceivable shape, size and material. What you want is something that will go up with a minimum of trouble, will hold the object and will stay there. You also want something that will do a minimum of damage to the wall.

Fasteners are generally rated by weight, assuring you that it will hold a given load without bending or breaking. A little more difficult to determine is whether you have the right fastener for the right set of conditions. You should know if a particular fastener is to be used in a hollow or solid wall.

When you read the manufacturer's instructions, look for key words, such as "hollow wall," "solid wall." In hollow-wall fasteners, look for such designations as short, long and extra-long, the choice here depending on the thickness of the wall. If uncertain, buy the medium-length fastener, the one designated as long.

The expansion bolt, a bolt with a partially split metal

sleeve, and the toggle bolt are best for dry wall use. The solid part of the sleeve, near the head of the bolt, is long or short, depending on the thickness of the dry wall.

Plastic anchors or plugs are used with either wood or sheet metal screws and are preferable in solid plaster. Make a hole for the anchor first and set the anchor in flush with the wall surface. The screw will expand it as it is tightened.

Lead screw anchors are used with wood, sheet metal or lag screws in masonry. Use one with a flared collar on hollow masonry. The collar will prevent it from falling through.

Those used with solid masonry are cut lengthwise so that they will expand evenly all around. Generally used in outside masonry, in the mortar joint, are the lag screw expansion shields. These have corrugations on the outside for extra holding power. As the lag bolt is tightened, the two halves of the shield expand in the mortar joint against the brick. For smaller screws in masonry, consider fiber plugs. These are made of braided jute and are lead-lined. Pick a plug that is only as long as the screw's threaded part.

Since manufacturers are constantly coming up with new products, you will find new variations on these all the time. One neoprene fastener has a brass nut which is drawn up as the screw is tightened. This can be used almost anywhere.

Whatever the material—lead, plastic, nylon, jute, alloys—remember to pick the right fastener for a particular job. If you are uncertain, ask an experienced hardware dealer, one who carries a variety of wall fasteners. Remember that many fasteners look alike but will not function alike. Chemical Will Remove Wallpaper

By ANDY LANG

AP Newsfeatures Writer

QUESTION: Can you give me some advice on how to remove wallpaper from a plastered wall? Also, after the paper is removed, what particular kind of paint should be used?

ANSWER: You can soak the paper until it softens, then pull and scrape it off. If you use this old-fashioned method, do only a section of the wall at a time, since the idea is to wait long enough for the water to seep through the paper, but not so long that the area dries up. But our recommendation is to use a wallpaper remover, a chemical that does a better job of soaking through the paper. Follow the instructions on the container very carefully. Professionals usually use a steamer, which does a faster job and which is especially good in stubborn cases.

If you decide to use a steamer, you can rent one, at which time the dealer will show you how to operate it. You can use any kind of paint you want, just as though there had been no paper on the wall. However, it is important that all the old paste be removed from the wall. Ask your paint dealer for a product that will soften the old paste and permit it to be washed off.

While supervising construction of the University of Virginia, Thomas Jefferson surveyed the site with pegs and twine, calculated the brick and lumber needed, hired bricklayers and carpenters and sent a scholar to Britain to recruit professors.

The bedroom wing, at the right side of the house, is reached directly from the front foyer. There are three bedrooms and two baths, the main bathroom having twin lavatories and a towel closet separate from the walk-in closet in the bedroom hall. The private bath in the master bedroom has a stall shower with an adjacent vanity and dressing area.

In carrying out the French Provincial styling, architect Herman H. York has chosen a brick veneer finish completely around the house. The front elevation is done with a minimum variety of window sizes. Care has been taken to keep the windows of the bedroom wing uniform even though one of them is in a bathroom. A covered entry with low brick wall makes for a pleasant approach to the front door.

Sportsmen To Honor Leaders

NEGAUNEE—Past presidents of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association will be honored when the organization holds its mid-winter meeting here Feb. 16.

At the same meeting, the Republic Sportsman Club will receive a citation for having done the most work for conservation of any NMSA affiliate.

The past presidents will receive plaques during a program following a noon luncheon prepared by the women's auxiliary at the Negaunee Rod & Gun Club, which will host the meeting in its clubhouse on Neely Pond.

Delegates from at least 18 clubs are expected to attend, according to Roland Juchemich Jr., Negaunee, NMSA president.

Resolutions on game, fish and conservation proposals will be acted on by delegates at the meeting, which will begin at 10 a. m.

Juchemich is the eighth president of NMSA, which was organized in 1921. The first president was the late Peter Trudell of Negaunee, who served from 1921 to around 1950. Michael F. DeFaut, Marquette, was the second president, holding office about six years.

Other presidents, in order of service, were William Asselin, Norway; Merwin White, Houghton; Howard Brown, Newberry, and Jack Madigan, Munising.

Copper Mines May Be Revived

HOUGHTON—Development of idle copper mining properties in the Winona area 28 miles south of Houghton is indicated in announcement by newly formed Lake Superior Copper Co.

The company said that about 35 men would be hired early in the summer to expand development work if tests are favorable on ore now being removed from stopes in the King Philip and Winona mines.

The two properties, which were closed about 1920, are connected on several levels. An estimated one and a half million tons of ore are available for removal within the next two years, and if that production proves financially successful further mining will be ordered.

Present work is taking place in the King Philip No. 2 shaft, which is entirely dewatered, and plans have been made for removing water from other shafts.

At one time as many as 300 men worked in the mines in the Winona area.

When the properties were closed about 50 years ago, considerable equipment was left in the shafts. Workers now are finding cars, rails, tools and other equipment on various levels.

ADVANCED ELEC. CO. 786-7031

DST Backers Hold Slim Hope

LANSING (AP)—Backers of Daylight Savings Time held out slim hope today that a recount would reverse the apparent defeat of DST in the November election.

State election officials said today that Daylight Savings Time failed by about 550 votes. Only 25 precincts remain to be counted before the recount is complete.

The precincts are located in 10 of the 16 counties. State election director Bernard A. Laid said Schoolcraft County residents voted 2,874-714 against the proposal in the fall election. Laid said County residents approved the measure by a margin of 3,490-3,292.

For the vote to be overturned, election officials said, an average of about 22 votes per precinct would be needed—much higher than the half vote per precinct margin originally established.

Returns were completed Thursday in Alger and Ogemaw Counties. In Alger County, authorities said that backers of DST lost one vote and opponents gained a vote in the recount.

The Ogemaw County clerk's office added that the recount revealed that the total number of "yes" votes dropped by six, while "no" votes picked up five.

Meanwhile, two Grand Rapids residents filed suit in the court of appeals Thursday in an attempt to block certification of the vote tally.

Steven R. Servaes and Herbert J. Ranta, who identified themselves as "registered voters and taxpayers," filed a complaint for a writ of Quo Warranto—a legal action used to test validity of the election.

They asked the court to declare the original vote certification null and void. Michigan voters defeated the Daylight Savings Time proposal by a margin of 1,501 votes.

In addition, the two men asked that Public Act 6 of the 1967 Legislature—a measure that abolished Daylight Savings Time—be temporarily set aside until the next general election.

The two men based their action on the grounds that the wording on the ballot proposal did not conform to statutes.

Kincheloe Base Gets Inspection

WASHINGTON (AP)—A team of government officials will fly to Sault Ste. Marie next Thursday to discuss the future of Kincheloe Air Force Base with community leaders.

The big base now is scheduled to close in October, 1970.

Government officials will meet both Thursday and Friday with local officials at the base.

Sault Ste. Marie is striving to convince the government the base should be kept in operation or converted to some civilian use, such as the location of a major industry or an international port for freight-carrying airplanes.

Kincheloe's 11,000 population makes it the Upper Peninsula's fifth largest community and accounts for an estimated 30 to 40 per cent of the retail business of Sault Ste. Marie. In comparison, Sault Ste. Marie has a population of 19,000.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., and Rep. Phil Ruppe, R-Mich., jointly announced the plans for next week's meetings there.

Donald Bradford, director of the Office of Economic Adjustment of the Defense Department, will head the group.

Others expected to make the trip include representatives of the Departments of Housing and Urban Development and Health Education and Welfare, the General Services Administration, the Federal Aviation Agency, the Economic Development Administration and possibly the Small Business Administration.

Sen. Griffin wrote former Defense Chief Clark Clifford 10 months ago asking that the closing date be extended at least until manned bombers are phased out.

Ruppe has explored the possibility of transferring activities at Selfridge AFB, near Mount Clemens to Kincheloe and turning Selfridge into a commercial airport.

Assign 26 Men To Guard LBJ

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Johnson has been assigned 26 Secret Service men, two limousines and a pickup truck for travel around his Texas ranch, the Chicago Tribune reported today.

In addition, the Tribune said in a story from its Washington Bureau, Rep. Charlotte T. Reid, R-Ill., disclosed Thursday that the government leases 15 other vehicles to transport the Secret Service guards protecting the former President and Mrs. Johnson.

The vehicles leased from Ford Motor Co. are mostly ranch wagons and pickup trucks, said Rep. Reid, a member of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles Secret Service funds.

Mrs. Reid termed the 26 Secret Service men assigned to Johnson a "normal detail" for the protection of an ex-President.

No protection is provided for the two Johnson daughters, Luci Nugent and Lynda Robb, Mrs. Reid reported. Children of former presidents are not protected beyond age 16.

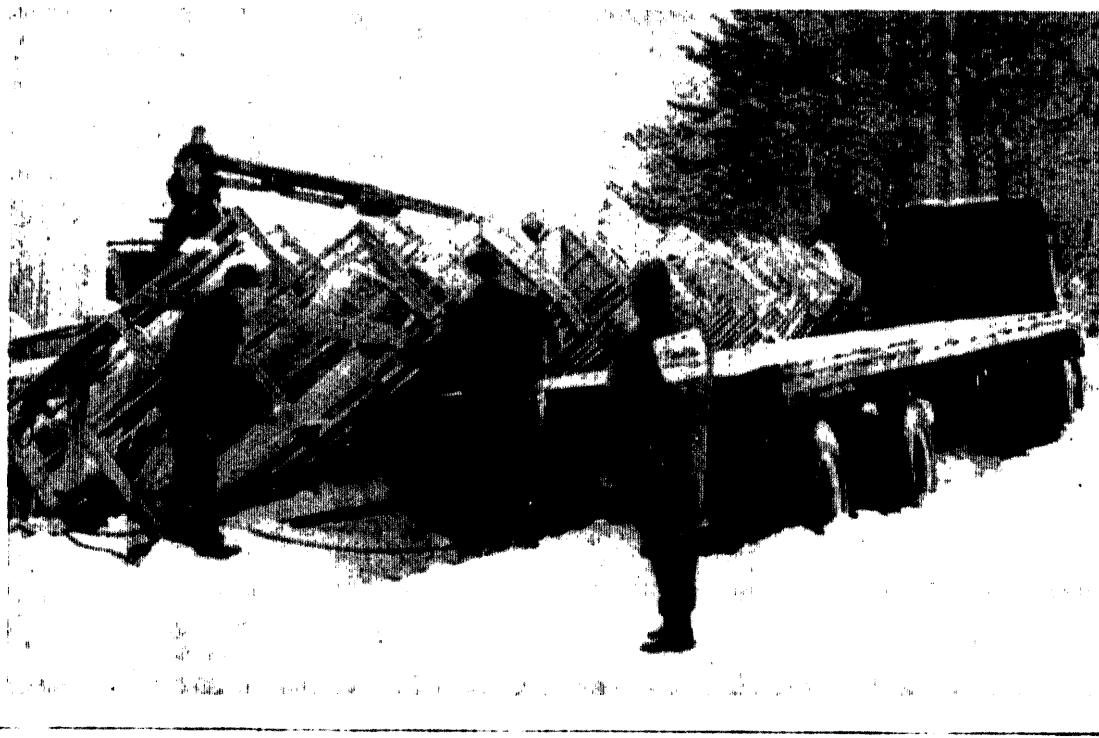

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife, Mamie, have 13 agents and five cars assigned to them, the Tribune said. The Eisenhower detail is smaller because he is hospitalized and not traveling much.

Auto Negligence Case Goes To Jury In Court

The trial of an auto negligence suit which began nearly three weeks ago in Circuit Court for Delta County went to the jury today after nearly 14 days of testimony.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson ordered a directed verdict of "no cause of action" against one of the defendant parties — Arthur Baratonos Sr. and Arthur Baratonos Jr. of Houghton.

The Baratonos were owners of a 1965 Chevrolet Corvair automobile which broke loose from a Curran Chevrolet Sales, Inc., wrecker on U.S. 2 in Garden Township.

Uncover Huge Viet Cong Base

SAIGON (AP)—American air cavalrymen have uncovered a huge North Vietnamese base spread over four square miles northwest of Saigon, U.S. officers said they think it was being built in preparation for a winter-spring offensive.

The base is believed to be the largest ever uncovered in the war and could accommodate perhaps 5,000 or more enemy troops. It contained hundreds of bunkers, a large underground hospital, dining halls, a bicycle repair shop, and a command post.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division came on the base while on a sweep along jungle trails in the long-time Viet Cong stronghold known as War Zone C. The base was found some 53 miles northwest of Saigon and 14 miles south of the Cambodian border.

Lt. Col. Frank Henry of Franklin, N.C., told AP photographer Rick Merron during a survey of the area that his troops had already counted 354 bunkers of various sizes and that he estimates there are 750 to 1,000 bunkers in the whole area.

"They've been doing a lot of work on this complex in the last month," Henry said. "We think they were preparing for the coming offensive down South," meaning attacks on U.S. and South Vietnamese installations closer to Saigon and possibly on the capital itself.

Merron flew over the area in a helicopter and said the triple-canopied jungle made it invisible from the air.

A captured North Vietnamese told the air cavalrymen that there was something in the area. He said he knew of a hospital but couldn't pinpoint it. The air cavalrymen were turning up bunkers so fast that engineers called in to blow them up were hard put to keep up.

The automobile crossed the highway into the path of a car occupied by James Selmo and his wife, Carole. Mr. and Mrs. Selmo of Grosse Pointe Woods both were seriously injured in the collision. He is paralyzed from his waist to his feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Selmo, plaintiffs in the action, filed suit against Leo, Donald and Elsworth Curran of Manistiquette, owners of Curran Chevrolet Sales; the Baratonos, and Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corp., asking damages from each.

In directing the verdict of "no cause of action" in the suit against the Baratonos Thursday afternoon, Judge Bernard H. Davidson said "there was no liability in the court's opinion" on the part of the Baratonos.

Arthur Baratonos Jr. was riding in the automobile when it broke loose from the wrecker and the plaintiffs had alleged negligence on his part in failing to control the car after the breakaway. The Baratonos claimed that there was no time to control the car in the short time before the collision.

In his closing argument to the jury, Attorney Nicholas Chapek of Escanaba, who is representing the Selmos, asked damages of $1,280,450 for James Selmo and $120,695 for Carole Selmo.

The plaintiffs alleged negligence on the part of Curran Chevrolet in failing to make a proper towing hookup and also alleged the wrecker was traveling in excess of the speed limit. The plaintiffs alleged that General Motors Corp. was negligent in design and manufacture of a bumper bracket on the front end of the Corvair which ruptured in the towing operations.

Both Curran Chevrolet and General Motors denied negligence.

Judge Davidson told the jury this morning that five verdicts are possible, including no cause of action against either defendant. The jury also was told they could find in favor of the Selmos against both parties, against Curran Chevrolet and not General Motors, or against General Motors and not Curran Chevrolet.

The fifth possibility, the judge said, would result if a verdict in favor of the Selmos was returned against Curran Chevrolet or against Curran Chevrolet and General Motors. In that event, the judge said, the jury would have to decide on Curran Chevrolet's third-party complaint against General Motors.

Ten Must Agree

In the third party action, Curran Chevrolet asked that if damages are awarded the Selmos from Curran Chevrolet that they be set over against General Motors because Curran alleged GM failed to properly notify and instruct the dealership of proper towing procedures and possible dangers involved in towing the Corvair automobile.

Trial of the case began in Circuit Court Monday, Jan. 6. Twelve of the 14 jurors who heard the case will consider the evidence and testimony. Judge Davidson said today that the verdict returned must be the verdict of 10 or more jurors. In civil cases, he said, the law has been changed not to require a unanimous verdict by all jurors.

Horse Ditches 43 Snowmobiles

A single horse put an end to snowmobiling activity for 43 prospective Arctic Cat snowmobile owners early this morning.

State Police of the Gladstone Post reported that a flat-bed truck loaded with the snowmobiles and two crates of replacement parts ran into the ditch off U. S. 2 and 41 just east of Wilson about 3:40 a. m. today after hitting the horse.

All the crates containing the snowmobiles and parts shifted off the truck.

Earl Witkop, Rte. 1, Interlochen, the driver of the truck, told State Police he saw the horse standing along the shoulder, but he was unable to avoid the animal when it moved onto the highway into the path of the eastbound truck.

The truck ran off the right side of the road and hit a tree with the entire load of snowmobiles shifting off the trailer.

Men using wreckers and other loading machines ran into difficulties this morning in salvage operations as the box crates in which the machines were loaded began to break up in lifting.

The machines, wrapped in protective plastic covers inside the crates, apparently were loaded onto the truck with a fork-lift loader which didn't require the crates to support the weight of the machines. In trying to pickup with hooks and chains, the heavy snowmobiles were breaking through the thin, wooden crates.

The retail value of the snowmobiles is estimated between $30,000 and $40,000.

The horse was owned by Joseph Gorzinsky of Wilson. It was destroyed.

Nixon Visits Capital's Slums

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon paid his first visit today to a riot-wrecked section of Washington's Negro slums and, discussing the rebuilding task, said "we'll all act together."

Without advance announcement, Nixon drove to a 7th St. business district hard hit in the rioting last April that followed the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

He did so a few hours before launching the first phase of his promised anticrime effort—an undertaking that will begin in the nation's capital.

The chief executive looked on as a wrecking crane began knocking down the gutted shell of "Waxie Maxie's Discount Record Department Store."

A "vest pocket park and playground" will be built on the site of Waxie Maxie's and an adjacent clothing store that now is but a heap of rubble.

The streets were washed down by sanitation workers shortly before Nixon's arrival and there was heavy police security in the area.

Nixon, however, walked directly into a Negro crowd gathered behind police lines across the street in front of "Jimmie's Pool Room" and spent a few minutes shaking hands and exchanging greetings with neighborhood residents.

Cherry Month

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has proclaimed the month of February as Cherry Month in Michigan, citing the fact that the state ranks first in the nation in the production of red tart cherries and "annually harvests more of this delicious fruit than any other area of the world."

Mexican-Americans Out To Better Movie Image

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now it's the Mexican-Americans who want to improve their movie image.

Following the lead of Negro groups, two organizations claiming to represent feeling in the Mexican-American community have petitioned the film and television industry for a better portrayal of their people. First it was the Mexican-American Political Association, an activist group which issued a blast about stereotype Mexicans in films.

Now comes the culture-oriented Latin American performing Arts Foundation, headed by Al Ortega, adviser to Mayor Sam Yorty and a commissioner of the Board of Public Works of Los Angeles.

Improve Relations
"We want to work with the industry to help create a better

image of the Mexican-American in films and also to bring more participation of our people in films," said Ortega. "We are not a violent or a militant organization. We realize that the film industry is a commercial enterprise financed by private money.

"But we feel that it is the industry's welfare to improve relations with the Mexican-American community. There is a big market there: over a million in Los Angeles County, two million in the state, five million in the western states, and increasing all the time."

Ortega said that his people complained that Mexicans were most often portrayed as bandits of the Pancho Villa type and Mexican women were cast in undignified roles.

"What we want is to be shown what we are," an important part of America," said Ortega. "For example, taking part in the foundation are architects, lawyers, engineers, people of talent."

Secure Grant
He added that the foundation hopes to secure a federal grant to help train young Mexican-Americans for acting and other work in the film industry.

Ortega said his group has been having meetings with industry leaders and they have been receptive.

A spokesman for the Motion Picture Association, representing the major companies, commented: "The Mexican-Americans are doing the same thing the NAACP did five years ago. In some ways they are right, in some ways they are wrong."

"There is no question that, as in the case of the Negro, the Mexican-American has not been well enough represented in films. Unfortunately there are not enough roles that call for them. But perhaps we can help that situation, and we are meeting with the Mexican-American community to see what we can do."

Nab Suspect In Dance Hall Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — FBI agents arrested Thursday Eugene Kelley, 20, who is wanted in Detroit for the firebombing of a dance hall which injured some 60 persons.

He was being held on $40,000 bond, set by U.S. Commissioner James T. Balog.

Agents arrested Kelley at a North Side address on the basis of a federal warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for arson.

He was charged in a local warrant Jan. 19 with setting fire to the Soul Expression Dance Hall.

The dance hall was gutted Jan. 12 when a man, apparently angered because he was refused admission, tossed gasoline from a can into the door of the hall and then ignited it, police said.

About 150 persons fled the second floor hall. Most of those injured suffered burns and bruises when the resulting fire and smoke caused panic among the crowd attempting to escape through windows and an icy rear stairway.

Police arrested two men on Jan. 20, charged with arson were identified as Donald Jones, 18, and Theodore Wallace, 20, both of Detroit. They pleaded innocent at their arraignment and were released on personal bond pending further court action.

RIGHT IN STEP with the times, one-year-old Patrick Lyndon Nugent sports a Nehru-style jacket and medallion. The child was off to see his granddaddy ex-President Johnson.

Schiffrin Hot Film Composer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From an office on S. Beverly Drive, amid smart dress shops and talent agencies, Argentine-born Lalo Schiffrin pours forth a seemingly endless supply of music, from rock to symphony.

Schiffrin, an intense, dark-haired pipe smoker, is the hottest new composer in films today. His album of themes for "Mission: Impossible" won him two Grammys from the recording academy and a gold record, having sold more than a quarter-million copies. His score for "Cool Hand Luke" netted an Oscar nomination.

Among his other recent scores: "The Fox," "The Brotherhood," "Bullitt," "Hell in the Pacific," "Coogan's Bluff."

He is now working on the score for 20th Century-Fox's "Che." And that isn't all. Other projects: original music for an MGM TV pilot, "U.M.C."; "Encounters," a jazz-and-symphony piece commissioned by the Los Angeles Philharmonic; a cantata for the Hollywood Bowl based on his music for the TV special "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich"; a string quartet to be performed in March at the Los Angeles County Museum; an original musical film based on "Captains Courageous."

How does he accomplish so much?

"Music is an idiom, like language," he explains. "When you learn grammar and can control syntax, you can write fast. The same is true in music, except that you use notes instead of words. If you want to say something in music and have the skill to say it, you can compose fast."

Schiffrin, now 37, has a wife,

Police Can Play Political Role

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard M. Maher has ruled that policemen have the right to participate in political activity when they are off duty.

The judge made the ruling after the Allen Park Police Officers Association filed suit against the city last week challenging an order from Mayor Leo Paluch that prohibited police from political activity on or off duty.

a son, 8, and a 2-year-old daughter.

He continues to pour out an astonishing amount of music from his windowless, soundproof office ("I can't stand distractions").

"I want to keep doing what I'm doing," he says. "Sometime in a career you reach a moment of serenity when you're not reaching out for new things but you're trying to develop the tools you have. I'm at that point now."

Economy's Illness Isn't Inflation Claims Sen. Hart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Thursday that traditional steps to halt inflation—raising taxes and interest rates—won't prevent higher prices.

This is so, he said, because the economy's major illness isn't inflation.

"We have been acting as if the patient were a 'supply and demand' economy grievously ill with inflation," he said in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Consumer Assembly.

"In my opinion, our economy has a touch of inflation but its basic disease is high prices caused by a lack of strong price competition in basic industries. This means that prices are—to a large extent—shielded from changes in demand."

Hart, chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee, said the economic power of some companies tends to make them immune to traditional competitive factors.

"They are able to take 'medicine' such as the surtax and higher interest and pass them on to consumers in the prices of goods," Hart said.

Not Greasers

In its blast against the film industry, the Political Association had declared: "The scrapie image has got to go. We do not want to be left out of your films, but we don't want to be stereotyped. We are not greasers."

The charges drew some support from Michael Blankfort, president of the Writers Guild of America. In a letter to screenwriters he said it was wrong to charge them with prejudice or indicate writers could control the production process. Blankfort added that the Mexican-Americans were "correct in that most of us are very sufficiently aware of their very presence in the American scene."

"Although occasionally Mexican-Americans have been portrayed as detectives or doctors in one or more of our television segments, by and large we have not given them thought: We have been unaware."

Mexican-Americans Out To Better Movie Image

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now it's the Mexican-Americans who want to improve their movie image.

Following the lead of Negro groups, two organizations claiming to represent feeling in the Mexican-American community have petitioned the film and television industry for a better portrayal of their people. First it was the Mexican-American Political Association, an activist group which issued a blast about stereotype Mexicans in films.

Now comes the culture-oriented Latin American performing Arts Foundation, headed by Al Ortega, adviser to Mayor Sam Yorty and a commissioner of the Board of Public Works of Los Angeles.

Improve Relations
"We want to work with the industry to help create a better

image of the Mexican-American in films and also to bring more participation of our people in films," said Ortega. "We are not a violent or militant organization. We realize that the film industry is a commercial enterprise financed by private money."

"But we feel that it is the industry's welfare to improve relations with the Mexican-American community. There is a big market there: over a million in Los Angeles County, two million in the state, five million in the western states, and increasing all the time."

Ortega said that his people complained that Mexicans were most often portrayed as bandits of the Pancho Villa type and Mexican women were cast in undignified roles.

"What we want to be shown what we are," an important part of America," said Ortega. "For example, taking part in the foundation are architects, lawyers, engineers, people of talent."

Secure Grant
He added that the foundation hopes to secure a federal grant to help train young Mexican-Americans for acting and other work in the film industry.

Ortega said his group has been having meetings with industry leaders and they have been receptive.

A spokesman for the Motion Picture Association, representing the major companies, commented: "The Mexican-Americans are doing the same thing the NAACP did five years ago. In some ways they are right, in some ways they are wrong."

"There is no question that, as in the case of the Negro, the Mexican-American has not been well enough represented in films. Unfortunately there are not enough roles that call for them. But perhaps we can help that situation, and we are meeting with the Mexican-American community to see what we can do."

Nab Suspect In Dance Hall Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — FBI agents arrested Thursday Eugene Kelley, 20, who is wanted in Detroit for the firebombing of a dance hall which injured some 60 persons.

He was being held on $40,000 bond, set by U.S. Commissioner James T. Balog.

Agents arrested Kelley at a North Side address on the basis of a federal warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for arson.

He was charged in a local warrant Jan. 19 with setting fire to the Soul Expression Dance Hall.

The dance hall was gutted Jan. 12 when a man, apparently angered because he was refused admission, tossed gasoline from a can into the door of the hall and then ignited it, police said.

About 150 persons fled the second floor hall. Most of those injured suffered burns and bruises when the resulting fire and smoke caused panic among the crowd attempting to escape through windows and an icy rear stairway.

Police arrested two men on Jan. 20, charged with arson were identified as Donald Jones, 18, and Theodore Wallace, 20, both of Detroit. They pleaded innocent at their arraignment and were released on personal bond pending further court action.

RIGHT IN STEP with the times, one-year-old Patrick Lyndon Nugent sports a Nehru-style jacket and medallion. The child was off to see his grandfather ex-President Johnson.

Schiffrin Hot Film Composer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From an office on S. Beverly Drive, amid smart dress shops and talent agencies, Argentine-born Lalo Schiffrin pours forth a seemingly endless supply of music, from rock to symphony.

Schiffrin, an intense, dark-haired pipe smoker, is the hottest new composer in films today. His album of themes for "Mission: Impossible" won him two Grammys from the recording academy and a gold record, having sold more than a quarter-million copies. His score for "Cool Hand Luke" netted an Oscar nomination.

Among his other recent scores: "The Fox," "The Brotherhood," "Bullitt," "Hell in the Pacific," "Coogan's Bluff."

He is now working on the score for 20th Century-Fox's "Che." And that isn't all. Other projects: original music for an MGM TV pilot, "U.M.C.," "Encounters," a jazz-and-symphony piece commissioned by the Los Angeles Philharmonic; a cantata for the Hollywood Bowl based on his music for the TV special "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich"; a string quartet to be performed in March at the Los Angeles County Museum; an original musical film based on "Captains Courageous."

How does he accomplish so much?

"Music is an idiom, like language," he explains. "When you learn grammar and can control syntax, you can write fast. The same is true in music, except that you use notes instead of words. If you want to say something in music and have the skill to say it, you can compose fast."

Schiffrin, now 37, has a wife,

Police Can Play Political Role

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard M. Maher has ruled that policemen have the right to participate in political activity when they are off duty.

The judge made the ruling after the Allen Park Police Officers Association filed suit against the city last week challenging an order from Mayor Leo Paluch that prohibited police from political activity on or off duty.

He continues to pour out an astonishing amount of music from his windowless, soundproof office ("I can't stand distractions").

"I want to keep doing what I'm doing," he says. "Sometime in a career you reach a moment of serenity when you're not reaching out for new things but you're trying to develop the tools you have. I'm at that point now."

Economy's Illness Isn't Inflation

Claims Sen. Hart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Thursday that traditional steps to halt inflation—raising taxes and interest rates—won't prevent higher prices.

This is so, he said, because the economy's major illness isn't inflation.

"We have been acting as if the patient were a 'supply and demand' economy grievously ill with inflation," he said in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Consumer Assembly.

"In my opinion, our economy has a touch of inflation but its basic disease is high prices caused by a lack of strong price competition in basic industries. This means that prices are—to a large extent—shielded from changes in demand."

Hart, chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee, said the economic power of some companies tends to make them immune to traditional competitive forces.

"They are able to take 'medicine' such as the surtax and higher interest and pass them on to consumers in the prices of goods," Hart said.

Not Greasers

In its blast against the film industry, the Political Association had declared: "The serape image has got to go. We do not want to be left out of your films, but we don't want to be stereotyped. We are not greasers."

The charges drew some support from Michael Blankfort, president of the Writers Guild of America. In a letter to screen writers he said it was wrong to charge them with prejudice or indicate writers could control the production process. Blankfort added that the Mexican-Americans were "correct in that most of us are not sufficiently aware of their very presence in the American scene."

"Although occasionally Mexican-Americans have been portrayed as detectives or doctors in one or more of our television segments, by and large we have not given them thought: We have been unaware."
